Small Business Tax Workshop

Introduction

The Small Business Tax Workshop contains general information about different types of business organizations, recordkeeping requirements and business tax returns. If you need more information, see LESSON 1, pages 1-36 through 1-39, for a list of free Internal Revenue Service (IRS) publications. Call the IRS toll free at 1-800-TAX-FORM (1-800-829-3676) to order.

If you have access to a personal computer, you can also download and print any of the 600 federal tax forms with instructions, approximately 100 tax publications and other tax materials from the IRS Web site at www.irs.gov.

An alternative to downloading files from the Internet is Publication 1796, FEDERAL TAX PRODUCTS on CD-ROM. This CD contains over 2,000 tax materials, including prior year forms. You can purchase the CD-ROM via the Internet at www.irs.gov/cdorders from the National Technical Information Service (NTIS) or by calling toll free 1-877-233-6767. Fax orders are accepted at 703-605-6900. Mail orders should be sent to:

NTIS
5285 Port Royal Rd
Springfield, VA 22161

THE SMALL BUSINESS RESOURCE GUIDE (IRS Publication 3207) contains information important to small businesses. Order your free copy by calling 1-800-829-3676.

Another option is to receive forms, instructions and tax information from your fax machine by calling 703-368-9694 from the phone on your fax machine and following the prompts.

There is a new section on the IRS Web site called the Small Business and Self Employed Community at www.irs.gov and choose ‘Businesses’ from the contents menu and then ‘Small Bus/Self-Employed’. If you run a small business or are self-employed, the site is here to help you. It offers industry profession-specific information and provides links to other helpful sites.

You will be required to pay federal employment taxes if you have employees. Lessons 2 and 3 explain your responsibilities for paying these taxes.

Taxpayer Rights

As a taxpayer, you have the right to be treated fairly, professionally, promptly and courteously by IRS employees.

IRS Mission

Provide America's taxpayers top quality service by helping them understand and meet their tax responsibilities and by applying the tax law with integrity and fairness to all.

A discussion of your right to fairness if your return is examined or your account is in the collection process is in Publication 1, YOUR RIGHTS AS A TAXPAYER.

You may find it helpful to have a general understanding of some activities of the IRS and how they relate to you as a business taxpayer. There are five areas of activity within the IRS with which you should be acquainted: Customer Account Services, Submission Processing, Examination and Appeals, Collection and the Taxpayer Advocate Service.

Customer Account Services

Customer Account Services is a liaison between taxpayers and IRS Submission Processing centers. Customer Account Services representatives can explain notices and answer other inquiries about your tax accounts. They can also help you understand and apply tax laws to help you determine your specific tax liability.

Service Centers

Whether you electronically file or mail your business and personal tax returns, they go to a regional submission-processing center for processing. IRS processes them with an automated data processing (ADP) system. The ADP system keeps a record of all business and individual tax return transactions. Computer-generated bills for taxes due and notices explaining changes to accounts are sent to taxpayers by the submission processing centers, and submission processing centers arrange for taxpayers' refund checks to be sent to them.

Examination and Appeals

The IRS is required by law to determine and collect from each taxpayer only the correct amount of tax due. One way the IRS meets this obligation is by examining returns. A notice of examination does not necessarily mean that the IRS has found, or will find, something wrong with your return.

Tax returns are selected for examination for various reasons. Returns are computer-scored according to their probability of error. The selection may mean you did not give enough information about some item of income or deduction. You may have included nontaxable income or deducted an unallowable expense. You may have filed a claim for refund, and the return is examined to make sure the correct amount of tax is refunded.

Your tax return may be examined in your place of business, at an IRS office or at your tax representative's office. When the examination is completed, any adjustment will be explained to you. If you agree with any proposal to increase or decrease your tax liability, you will be asked to sign an agreement form. If you do not agree with any changes that are proposed by the examiner, you have certain appeal rights, both within the IRS and in the courts.

For more information, see Publication 556, EXAMINATION OF RETURNS, APPEAL RIGHTS AND CLAIMS FOR REFUND.

Collection

Most taxpayers pay their taxes by the date the return is due. For those who do not pay on time, the collection process begins when a taxpayer is sent a notice (demand for payment) from the IRS. The taxpayer should either pay the amount due or contact the IRS immediately. If the taxpayer does contact the IRS, an IRS employee will help determine whether the notice is valid, and, if so, how to pay any amount owed.

If a taxpayer who receives a notice does not pay the amount due and does not contact the IRS, or if a taxpayer defaults on a payment agreement, the IRS may take enforcement actions. Examples of enforcement action include the filing of a NOTICE OF FEDERAL TAX LIEN, the serving of a NOTICE AND DEMAND FOR PAYMENT and/or the seizure and sale of the taxpayer's property and rights to property.

To encourage prompt payment of withheld income, social security and Medicare (employment) taxes, Congress passed a law that provides for the trust fund recovery penalty. (These taxes are called trust fund taxes because you actually hold the employees' money in trust until you make a federal tax deposit in that amount.) For more information, see Publications 594, THE IRS COLLECTION PROCESS and Publication 1660, COLLECTION APPEAL RIGHTS.

Taxpayer Advocate Service

The Taxpayer Advocate is the spokesperson for taxpayers who have been unable to resolve problems through normal channels. If you have an ongoing tax problem, call the IRS hotline at 1-877-777-4778 for help. You may also write to the Taxpayer Advocate at the office that last contacted you.

If the tax problem is causing or will cause you a significant hardship, the Taxpayer Advocate will arrange for an immediate review of your problem. A significant hardship may occur if you cannot maintain your business location, pay the utility bills for your business and meet payroll. Significant hardship could also occur if your business faces imminent bankruptcy or if the actions of IRS would cause irreparable damage to your business. While your account is reviewed, any additional enforcement action will be suspended if the Taxpayer Advocate determines that a significant hardship exists.

See Publication 1546, THE TAXPAYER ADVOCATE SERVICE OF THE IRS, for more information.

Most business taxpayers should be able to meet their tax responsibilities by using the packages of tax forms and instructions they receive from the IRS. Those who need more information may turn to the IRS' many free tax publications, education programs, audiovisual materials and other services. If additional information and assistance are needed, taxpayers can call the IRS or visit their local IRS office. By calling or visiting the IRS, taxpayers can get answers to questions about their account, general information about IRS procedures, services available or the tax law. Publication 910, GUIDE TO FREE TAX SERVICES, is available by calling 1-800-829-3676.

Telephone Service

Telephone tax assistance is available in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands by calling 1-800-829-1040.

TELE-TAX

Tele-Tax is an IRS telephone service that provides both automated refund information and recorded tax information. The number is 1-800-829-4477.

TTY/TDD

If you are hearing-impaired and have access to TTY/TDD equipment, you can call 1-800-829-4059 with your tax questions or to order forms and publications.

See your tax form instruction booklet for the hours of operation.

Walk-in Service

Assistance is available in most IRS offices (Taxpayer Assistance Centers) to help you in preparing your individual federal tax return. You may also obtain tax forms, publications and help with questions about IRS notices or bills.

Taxpayer Education Programs

The IRS has a number of programs designed to help you understand your rights and obligations under our nation's tax system. Volunteers are an important part of these programs. To volunteer to help in one of our taxpayer education programs, or for times and locations of available services in your community, call the IRS at 1-800-829-1040 and ask for the number of your closest taxpayer education office. The taxpayer education programs include:

- Community Outreach
- Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA)
- Tax Counseling for the Elderly
- Small Business Tax Education
- Bank, Post Office and Library Program
- Student Tax Clinics
- Understanding Taxes Program for Students
- Practitioner Education

Publication 17, YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

This publication can help you prepare your individual tax return. It takes you through the individual tax return and explains the tax laws that cover salaries and wages, interest and dividends, rental income, gains and losses, adjustments to income (such as reimbursed employee business expenses and IRA contributions) and itemized deductions.

IRS e-file Programs for Business

If you have employment taxes to report, you can file your Form 941, EMPLOYER'S QUARTERLY FEDERAL TAX RETURN, electronically — by telephone or through a third party such as a payroll service company. On-line filing of Form 941— through a personal computer —is also available. Visit the IRS Web site (The Digital Daily) at www.irs.gov for more information. In addition, you can eliminate paper deposit coupons, trips to the bank and postage costs, by taking advantage of the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS). This system, with millions of users, allows you to initiate your Federal Tax Deposits (FTDs) electronically by telephone or personal computer, or you can have your financial institution initiate payments. Although this system is mandatory only for businesses that make in excess of $200,000 in FTDs yearly, it is highly recommended and used by other smaller depositors because of its simplicity and convenience. To learn more about EFTPS or to request an enrollment form, see the website www.eftps.gov or call EFTPS Customer Service at 1-800-555-4477, 1-800-555-8778 or 1-800-945-8400. See Lesson 5 for a more detailed discussion of the IRS' e-file Programs.

for Business

Other Sources of Information

The following organizations offer services to people with small businesses:

- U.S. Government Printing Office – For a list of Federal publications that are for sale to assist small businesses, go to www.gpo.gov select the 'Government Bookstore' then 'Federal Tax Products', or call 202-512-1800 (M-F, 7:30 to 5 p.m. EST). Fax orders to 202-512-2250 or write to:

Superintendent of Documents
U.S. Government Printing Office
P.O. Box 371954
Pittsburgh, PA 15250-7954

- U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) – offers many publications on topics of interest to people with small businesses. A nationwide telephone service is provided through the SBA Office of Advocacy. The U.S. Small Business Administration Answer Desk assists callers with their small business problems. It also serves as a referral service to direct callers to the appropriate government agency, trade association and other information services. The toll-free number, available Monday through Friday from 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. EST, is 1-800-827-5722.
- Small Business Development Centers, Business Information Centers, and Women's business Centers (more than 1,000) – are available in most states and U.S. territories. Business workshops and counseling are available as well as research information for small businesses. Contact the SBA for local phone numbers and check the Internet at www.sba.gov/sbdc for more information.
- Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE) and Active Corps of Executives (ACE) – provide counseling for business people and conduct SBA-sponsored pre-business workshops. See www.score.org.

- Social Security Administration (SSA) – The SSA provides information on proper reporting of social security wages for both paper and magnetic media filers. The SSA holds joint seminars with the IRS on proper wage reporting by employers. See www.ssa.gov or call 1-800-772-1213/TTY at 1-800-325-0778.
- SSA and IRS issue a quarterly tax help newsletter (SSA/IRS REPORTER) which is designed to keep employers up to date on changes to their tax and employee wage obligations. View it on-line at <http://www.irs.gov>.
- National Business, Professional or Trade Organizations – provide information for specific businesses and trades. Some examples of these are:
 - National Federation of Independent Businesses (see <http://www.nfib.com/>)
 - National Association of the Self-Employed (see <http://www.nase.org/>)
 - National Association of Independent Contractors
 - U. S. Chamber of Commerce and local Chambers of Commerce (see www.chambersofcommerce.org)

National Association of Enrolled Agents (see www.naea.org)

National Society of Certified Public Accountants (see www.aicpa.org)

- Other Federal Agencies provide a variety of services and information for businesspersons:
 - U.S. Department of Agriculture – The Cooperative Extension Service County Agents help rural residents manage small family businesses and farms through workshops, counseling and other types of assistance. See www.usda.gov.
 - U.S. Department of Labor – The Employment Standards Administration provides assistance regarding labor and wage relations and other labor management standards. See www.dol.gov.

- U.S. Department of Commerce – The Minority Business Development Agency supports the development of minority owned and managed businesses. Commerce also has an International Business Export Office that provides information on imports and exports. See www.doc.gov.
- State and Local Agencies – provide information about local laws and regulations affecting business people. Since agency and organization names vary in many states, you may want to call your local or state Chamber of Commerce for help in identifying the organization you want:
 - State Departments of Revenue, Employment, Taxation or Equalization
 - State Department of Commerce for Minority Business Development
 - State Employment Commission or Employment Security Agency
 - State Department of Economic Development for Business Regulation
 - Governor’s Office of Community and Industrial Development
 - Governor’s Office of Minority and Small Business Development
 - Small Business Development Centers and Business Resource Centers

Lesson 1

Business Tax Requirements

Introduction To successfully operate your business, it is necessary to become familiar with federal, state, and local reporting requirements. This section of the workbook discusses the record keeping requirements, the advantages and disadvantages of different types of business organization, and reporting requirements for each type's federal income tax returns. Be sure to contact the state and local taxing authorities to determine their reporting requirements.

Employer Identification Number (EIN)
XX -123456X

Business owners may be required to obtain a federal employer identification number to identify tax reports filed with the IRS. You may apply for an EIN by completing Form SS-4, APPLICATION FOR FEDERAL EMPLOYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER. Afterwards, you may call, fax, or mail Form SS-4 to obtain your EIN by contacting the location that processes your state. Numbers are listed in Form SS-4's separate instructions. The application process will be discussed in more detail in Lesson 2.

Recordkeeping You are required to keep records so that you can prepare accurate tax returns. You must keep receipts, sales slips, invoices, bank deposit slips, canceled checks and other documents to substantiate items of income, deductions and credits. Recording these items in journals and ledgers will help you pay only the tax you owe.

Good records can help you:

- Identify source of receipt. You may receive cash or property from many sources. Unless you have records showing the source of your receipts, you may not be able to prove that some are non-business or nontaxable.
- Prevent omission of deductible expenses. You may forget expenses when you prepare your tax return, unless you record them when you incur or pay them.
- Establish earnings for self-employment tax purposes. Your records should show the amount of earnings reportable for self-employment tax purposes. Self-employment tax is explained later, under BUSINESS RETURNS.
- Explain items on income tax return. If IRS examines your income tax return, you may be asked to explain the items reported. You must be able to support items on your return with sales slips, invoices, receipts, bank deposit slips, canceled checks and other documents. These items of support are necessary if you are to have adequate and complete records.

Caution: Adequate Records

The record keeping rules require that you keep adequate documentary records or sufficient evidence to support your own statements, such as receipts and a log or diary, for:

- deductions you take for travel, transportation, entertainment and business gift expenses
- any deduction you take for certain business property.

These records should substantiate the amount you claim, the time and place, the business purpose and your business relationship to any other persons involved. Incomplete records may not be enough for the deduction to be allowed. If your records are lost due to circumstances beyond your control, such as by flood or earthquake, you may substantiate a deduction by reasonable reconstruction. For more information about recordkeeping, see Publication 583, STARTING A BUSINESS AND KEEPING RECORDS. Always keep your business records available for examination by the Internal Revenue Service.

How Long To Keep Records

You must keep your records as long as their contents may be material in the administration of any Internal Revenue Service law.

Supporting Records

To support items of income or deduction on your tax return, you must keep records until the statute of limitations for that return expires. Ordinarily, the statute of limitations for an income tax return expires 3 years after the return is due or filed, or 2 years from the date the tax is paid, whichever is later.

In many cases you must keep records indefinitely. For example, if you change your method of accounting, records supporting the necessary adjustments may remain material for an indefinite time.

You must keep records relating to the basis of property for as long as they are material in determining the basis of the original or replacement property. Refer to Table 3, Period of Limitation in Publication 583 for retention timeframes.

Employment Tax Records

You must keep all employment tax records for at least 4 years after the date on which a tax return becomes due or the tax is paid, whichever is later. For more information, refer to Publication 15, EMPLOYER'S TAX GUIDE (Circular E).

Tax Returns

Keep copies of your filed tax returns. They will help you with computing and preparing your future tax returns or if you need to correct what is on file by preparing an amended return. Previously filed tax forms may also be helpful to the executor or administrator of your estate.

Bookkeeping Systems

Many people who operate their own, one-person, business never bother to set up a business bookkeeping system separate from their personal system. Their personal checking account serves as both a personal and a business account. IRS recommends that you open a separate business bank account.

You may use either a single entry or double-entry system of bookkeeping. The single-entry system is the simplest to keep.

With the single-entry system, you record a daily and a monthly summary of business income and a monthly summary of business expenses. Single entry is not a complete accounting system, but it shows income and expenses in sufficient detail for tax purposes. This system focuses on the business' profit and loss statement and not on its balance sheet. An example of a double-entry system is shown in Publication 583.

The double-entry system has built-in checks and balances and is more accurate than single-entry system. The double-entry system is self-balancing. Since all business transactions consist of an exchange of one thing for another, double-entry bookkeeping is used to show this two-fold effect.

In journals and ledgers, you record every transaction as a debit entry in one account and as a credit entry in another account. After you post the journal entries to the ledger accounts, prepare a trial balance sheet. The total debits must equal the total credits.

Accounting Methods

On your return you must use the same accounting method you use to keep your records. Your accounting method is a set of rules that you use to decide when and how you report your income and expenses.

The two most commonly used accounting methods are the cash method and the accrual method. Under the cash method, you report all income in the year you receive it. You usually deduct expenses only in the tax year in which you pay them. Under the accrual method, you report income in the year you earn it, regardless of when you receive the payment. You deduct expenses in the tax year you incur (assume liability for) them, regardless of when you pay them. If your business has an inventory, the rules have recently changed. Prior to 2000, if you had inventory, you generally had to use the accrual method for purchases and sales. Now, if your business has annual gross profits of $1 million or less, you are permitted to use the cash method of accounting. For more information, see Publication 538, ACCOUNTING PERIODS AND METHODS.

There are several computer software packages that you can use for Record keeping. They can be purchased in many retail stores. These packages are very useful and relatively easy to use, and they require very little knowledge of bookkeeping and accounting.

Note: If you use a computerized system, you must be able to produce sufficient legible records from the system to provide the information needed to determine your correct tax liability. Be sure to print a hard copy that matches your data on disks.

Income Statement and Balance Sheet

An income statement, also called a cash flow analysis, provides a perspective of your company's revenues, costs and profitability. A cash flow analysis is a detailed monthly account of how money flows into your business in the form of income and flows out of your business in the form of expenses. Subtracting expenses from income gives you a monthly result of how well your business is doing. (See Exhibit 1.1 on page 1-5.)

A balance sheet, on the other hand, provides a snapshot of the company's net worth at the present time. As the name implies, assets must balance or equal liabilities must equal net worth. (See Exhibit 1.2 on Page 1-6.)

Types of Business Organizations

One of the major considerations that must be made when deciding to go into business or after you have operated for a short length of time is the structure of ownership. So let's review the advantages and disadvantages of the five types of business organizations as well as the federal tax forms that must be filed to report their income. The five types of business organizations are: Sole proprietors, partnerships, limited liability companies, corporations and S-corporations.

Sole Proprietorship

A sole proprietorship is an unincorporated business that one individual owns. It is the simplest type of business organization. The business does not exist apart from the proprietor (owner). The proprietor assumes the risks of the business to the extent of all of his or her assets, whether or not the assets are used in the business. If both husband and wife jointly own and operate the business, a partnership exists.

Advantages:

1. The business is simple to organize.
2. The owner has maximum freedom to make decisions.
3. The business has a minimum of legal restrictions.
4. The owner receives all the profits.
5. The business is easy to discontinue.

Disadvantages:

1. The owner has unlimited liability. The individual owner is legally liable for all debts of the business. Creditors may attach all of the entire owner's assets, even personal assets not used in the business.
2. Usually the ability to finance the business (capital) is limited to whatever the owner can secure or produce personally. This feature may limit the expansion of a business when new capital is required. A common cause of failure for this form of business organization is its original lack of capital. Limited capital restricts the ability of a sole proprietor to operate the business effectively and survive at an initial low profit level, or to get through an economic rough spot. For more information about sole proprietorships, see Publication 334, Tax Guide for SMALL BUSINESS.

Sole Proprietors (and Some Single Member LLCs)
File Schedule C

A sole proprietor (single owner) and a single member of a Limited Liability Company, LLC, file either Schedule C-EZ or C, NET PROFIT FROM BUSINESS, with their Form 1040 to report the profit or loss from operating their businesses. Exhibit 1.3 and 1.4 are examples of Schedule C-EZ and Schedule SE, Self-Employment Tax. A Schedule SE, SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX, must be filed to report the Social Security and Medicare Taxes on net profits of $400 or more. Self-employment tax is covered later in this lesson. A filled-in Schedule C example is shown on Exhibits 1.10 and 1.11.

Who Must File Schedule SE

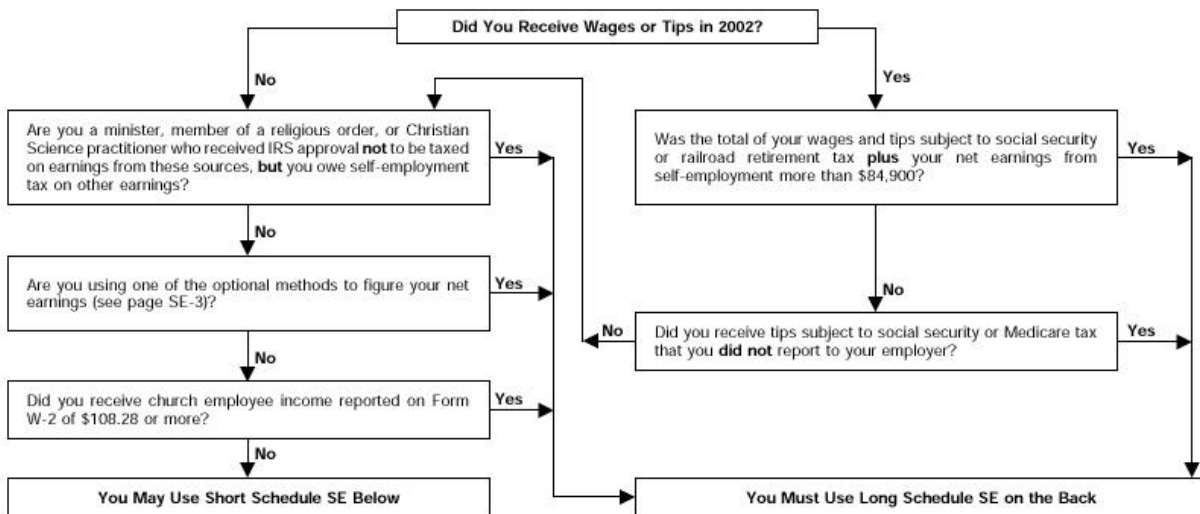

You must file Schedule SE if:

- You had net earnings from self-employment from other than church employee income (line 4 of Short Schedule SE or line 4c of Long Schedule SE) of $400 or more or
- You had church employee income of $108.28 or more. Income from services you performed as a minister or a member of a religious order is not church employee income. See page SE-1.

Note. Even if you had a loss or a small amount of income from self-employment, it may be to your benefit to file Schedule SE and use either "optional method" in Part II of Long Schedule SE. See page SE-3.

Exception. If your only self-employment income was from earnings as a minister, member of a religious order, or Christian Science practitioner and you filed Form 4361 and received IRS approval not to be taxed on those earnings, do not file Schedule SE. Instead, write "Exempt-Form 4361" on Form 1040, line 56.

May I Use Short Schedule SE or Must I Use Long Schedule SE?

Section A—Short Schedule SE. Caution. Read above to see if you can use Short Schedule SE.

Partnership

A partnership is a relationship between two or more persons who join together to carry on a trade or business. Each person contributes money, property, labor or skills, and each expects to share in the profits and losses of the business. Any number of persons may join in a partnership.

For the purpose of income taxes, a partnership includes a syndicate, group, pool, joint venture or other unincorporated organization that carries on a business and that is not classified as a trust, estate or corporation.

Advantages:

1. It is easy to organize.
2. It may have greater financial strength than a sole proprietorship.
3. It combines managerial skills and judgments of the partners.
4. It has a definite legal status.
5. Each partner has a personal interest in the business.

Disadvantages:

1. The liability of the partners is usually unlimited. Each partner may be held liable for all the debts of the business. Therefore, if one partner does not exercise good judgment, that partner can cause not only the loss of the partnership's assets, but also the loss of the other partners' personal assets.
2. The authority for decisions is divided.

Partnerships (and LLCs Taxed as Partnerships) File Form 1065

Profits or losses from operations are reported by Partnership's (and LLCs taxed as partnerships) on Form 1065, U.S. PARTNERSHIP RETURN OF INCOME, an information return that summarizes the business activity of the partnership. The partnership gives each partner a Schedule K-1 (Form 1065), PARTNER'S SHARE OF INCOME, CREDITS, DEDUCTIONS, ETC. Then each partner uses their Schedule K-1 to complete Part II of Schedule E (Form 1040), SUPPLEMENTAL INCOME AND LOSS, and any other forms and schedules the partner must file with his or her individual return. A sample Form 1065 is shown in Publication 541. Exhibits 1.5 through 1.7 are an example of a Schedule K-1 and Schedules E. For more information about partnerships, see Publication 541, the Instructions to Forms 1065, Partnership Income Tax Return and the Form 1040 Instructions for Schedule E.

Limited Liability Company (LLC)

All states have enacted laws recognizing limited liability companies. An LLC is a separate legal entity you form by filing articles of organization with a state’s Secretary of State. LLCs (and similar entities called Limited Liability Partnerships – LLPs) combine certain features of partnerships with the limited liability feature and other features of corporations.

The individual members are not personally liable for the LLC’s or LLP’s debts or liabilities, except to the extent of their investment and capital commitment in the company. It is important to note that an LLC/LLP is not a federal tax entity and is generally treated as a partnership by IRS. A single-member LLC can be treated as a “disregarded entity” for tax purposes, even though still respected as separate for legal purposes. Thus, if owned by an individual, such an entity can be reported as a Schedule C sole proprietorship on the owner’s personal tax return. File Form 8832, ENTITY CLASSIFICATION ELECTION, to state the type of limited liability business organized. For more information on the legal aspects of LLCs/LLPs, contact your Secretary of State’s office. For tax information, see IRS Publication 541, PARTNERSHIPS or the Instructions for Form 1065, PARTNERSHIP RETURN.

S Corporation

An S Corporation is a small business corporation whose shareholders elect to have corporate income taxed in a manner similar to that of a partnership. Organizing shareholders of a corporation who wish to avoid double taxation may elect to file Form 2553, ELECTION BY A SMALL BUSINESS CORPORATION, to be recognized as an S corporation. This election must be submitted within the first 75 days of the tax year to be permitted for the current tax year. Otherwise, the election is effective for the next tax year. Generally, an S corporation does not pay tax on income resulting from daily operation. Instead, the income and expenses of the corporation are divided among its shareholders (limited to 75), who then report them on their own income tax returns. However, an S corporation does pay taxes on capital gains realized when corporate assets are sold.

An S-corporation has the combined advantages and disadvantages of the partnership and regular corporations.

S Corporation Files Form 1120S

S corporations file Form 1120S, U.S. INCOME TAX RETURN FOR AN S CORPORATION, and only pay tax on any items that are not passed to shareholders. The S corporation gives each shareholder a Schedule K-1 (Form 1120S), SHAREHOLDER’S SHARE OF INCOME, CREDITS, DEDUCTIONS, ETC. (See Exhibit 1.8 on pages 1-19 and 1-20). The shareholder uses the Schedule K-1 to complete Part II of Schedule

E (Form 1040), and any other forms and schedules the shareholder must file with his or her individual return. Refer to the Instructions for Form 1120S for more information, also see the Instructions for Form 1120S, and Form 2553. Also see Form 1040 Instructions for Schedule E, Part II.

For more information about S corporations, see the Instructions for Form 1120S and Form 2553.

Corporation

The law treats a corporation as a legal entity. It has a life separate from its owners and has rights and duties of its own. The owners of a corporation are the stockholders. The managers of a corporation may or may not be stockholders. Forming a corporation involves a transfer of money or property, or both, by the prospective shareholders in exchange for capital stock in the corporation. For the purpose of federal income tax, corporations include associations, joint stock companies and trusts and partnerships that actually operate as associations or corporations.

Advantages:

1. The life of the business is perpetual.
2. The stockholders have limited liability.
3. Transfer of ownership is easy (sale of stock).
4. It is easier for corporations to raise capital and to expand than it is for other forms of business.
5. Management may be more efficient.
6. It is adaptable to both small and large businesses.

Disadvantages:

1. It is subject to tax on its income at the corporate level and when the income is distributed as dividends, it is taxed again to the shareholder.
2. It may be more difficult and expensive to organize than other forms of ownership. It is wise to consult an accountant and attorney specializing in corporate law.
3. The corporate charter filed with the Secretary of your state restricts the types of business activities.
4. It is subject to many state and federal controls.

In forming a corporation, a business must organize by applying for a charter through the Secretary of State's office where the principal business activity will occur. To increase its financial ability, the charter permits corporations to sell stock to numerous shareholders/owners. The corporation is empowered to create debts separate from the shareholders.

Corporation Files
Either
Form 1120 or
1120-A

A corporation takes the same deductions for expenses as a sole proprietor. Special deductions are also available to corporations. Profits of the corporation are taxed to the corporation on either Form 1120-A, U.S. CORPORATION SHORT-FORM INCOME TAX RETURN or Form 1120, U.S. CORPORATION INCOME TAX RETURN, as well as to the shareholders if the profits are distributed. However, shareholders cannot take a loss if the corporation does not operate at a profit. See Exhibit 1.9 for Form 1120-A.

If the corporation paid dividends during the year, it gives each shareholder a Form 1099-DIV, STATEMENT FOR RECIPIENTS OF DIVIDENDS AND DISTRIBUTIONS. A shareholder who works for the corporation is an employee. The corporation gives each employee a Form W-2, WAGE AND TAX STATEMENT. The shareholders and employees use these Forms 1099 DIV and W-2 to complete their individual returns, Form 1040. Publication 542, Corporations, contains additional guidelines.

For more information about corporations, see Publication 542, CORPORATIONS.

Net Profit or Loss

To figure estimated taxes and to report income earned from your business, you must figure your profit or loss. Profit is the amount on which you will pay tax. If you operated at a loss, the amount is entered in parenthesis and will reduce other income. The basic way to determine profit or loss is the same for each type of business organization.

$$\text{Gross Income} - \text{Expenses} = \text{Net profit or loss}$$

You will use this formula with some slight changes to determine your profit or loss on your tax return. This workbook expands the formula by discussing gross receipts and cost of goods sold, both of which are used in determining gross income for either type of business. Since many new businesses start as a sole proprietor, the following illustrates the preparation of Schedule C, Profit or Loss From Business (Sole Proprietor).

Gross Receipts or Sales

Gross receipts or sales are the income that a business receives from sales of its products or services. Gross receipts less returns and allowances equal net sales. In the example illustrated in this lesson, John's Furniture Store sales for the year were $48,000 with neither returns nor allowances. Therefore, the store had $48,000 in both gross receipts (line 1) and net receipts (line 3).

Cost of Goods Sold

Cost of goods sold is the cost to a business to buy or make the product that it sold. It is easy to figure the cost of goods sold if you sell all your merchandise during the year. However, some of your sales will probably be from inventory that you carried over from earlier years and you will probably have inventory left unsold at the end of the year.

To figure the cost of goods sold, start with the value of the inventory on hand at the beginning of the year. Add the cost of goods purchased or manufactured during the year. Subtract the cost of any merchandise withdrawn for personal use. The result is the cost of items available for sale during the year. Then subtract the value of your inventory at the end of the year; your cost of goods sold is the remainder. This can be stated by the following formula:

$$\begin{array}{r}
 \text{Beginning inventory} \\
 + \text{Purchases} \\
 \hline
 = \text{Cost of items Available} \\
 - \text{Ending inventory} \\
 \hline
 = \text{Cost of goods sold}
 \end{array}$$

For example, John's Furniture Store shows the following in Part III of Schedule C: an inventory of $12,000 at the beginning of the year (line 35), purchased furniture costing $26,000 during the year (line 36) and an ending inventory of $9,800 (line 41). The cost of goods sold was $28,200 (line 42) that is also written on line 4 in Part 1 of Schedule C. Using the formula, this is stated as:

Beginning inventory	$12,000
+ Purchases	+ 26,000
= Cost of items Available	= 38,000
- Ending inventory	= 9,800
= Cost of goods sold	= 28,200

Gross Profit

Gross profit equals the net receipts (the balance of gross receipts less returns and allowances) less the cost of goods sold. John’s Furniture Store had gross (and net) receipts of $48,000 (lines 1 and 3) and the cost of goods sold was $28,200(line 4). The store’s gross profit was $19,800 ($48,000 – $28,200 = $19,800) on line 7 of Schedule C. After you determine the income, you must determine the expenses, which is the other item in the formula for computing profit or loss.

Business Expenses

Business expenses are the ordinary and necessary expenses for the operation of a business. The cost of business property that has a life of more than 1 year, such as a truck or a building, is not considered a current business expense. That cost is usually deducted on your tax return over a number of years as depreciation (discussed later). John’s Furniture Store had total expense of $11,000 of which $10,800 was current business expenses and $200 was depreciation. This would be reported on his line 28 of the Schedule C.

Net Profit or Loss

Net profit or loss is the amount by which the gross profit and any other income for a period is more (or less, in the case of a loss) than the business expenses and depreciation for the same period. John’s Furniture Store had a gross profit of $19,800 (line 7) and business expenses of $11,000 (line 28). The store’s net profit was $8,800 ($19,800– $11,000 = $8,800) on line 31 of Schedule C. A sole proprietor or member of a partnership must pay self-employment taxes on the net profit; in this example, on the $8,800. The computation of the self-employment tax is on Schedule SE. A filled-in Schedule C and SE, the forms for a sole proprietorship, are shown as examples. (See Exhibits 1.10, 1.11 and 1.12.)

Note: You may be able to file the shorter Schedule C-EZ, if you meet certain requirements. For more information, see Schedule C-EZ and Exhibit 1.13 on page 1-27.

Who Must File Schedule SE

You must file Schedule SE if:

- You had net earnings from self-employment from other than church employee income (line 4 of Short Schedule SE or line 4c of Long Schedule SE) of $400 or more or
- You had church employee income of $108.28 or more. Income from services you performed as a minister or a member of a religious order is not church employee income. See page SE-1.

Note. Even if you had a loss or a small amount of income from self-employment, it may be to your benefit to file Schedule SE and use either "optional method" in Part II of Long Schedule SE. See page SE-3.

Exception. If your only self-employment income was from earnings as a minister, member of a religious order, or Christian Science practitioner and you filed Form 4361 and received IRS approval not to be taxed on those earnings, do not file Schedule SE. Instead, write "Exempt-Form 4361" on Form 1040, line 56.

Business Tax Returns

Self-Employment Tax

Self-employed people who are sole proprietors or partners in a partnership are subject to self-employment (SE) tax if they have $400 or more in net earnings from self-employment income. In 2002, the tax rate for self-employment tax is 15.3% of which 12.4% is social security (old age, survivors and disability insurance) plus 2.9% for Medicare (hospital insurance). As an employee, you pay one half of these taxes and your employer pays the other one half. If you are also an employee, you may still be required to pay these taxes on self-employed income.

Income passed through to shareholders of an S Corporation is not subject to self-employment tax.

Note: The maximum net earnings subject to the social security tax for 2002 is $84,900. There is no maximum limit on the amount subject to the 2.9% Medicare tax.

If you receive wages in 2002 from which Social Security and Medicare taxes are withheld, subtract those wages from the maximums to figure how much self-employment income is subject to the taxes. For example, in 2002 you receive wages of $50,000 from your employer and net $35,000 in self-employment income. You would first subtract your wages, $50,000, from the social security maximum, of $84,900. Only $34,900 of your self-employment income is subject to the 12.4% Social Security portion of the self-employment tax. All of the $35,000 is subject to the 2.9% Medicare Tax.

If you have income subject to self-employment tax, figure the tax on Schedule SE (Form 1040), SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX. If you have more than one business, use one Schedule SE and combine the profits and losses from all of your businesses. You must file Schedule SE if:

- your net earnings from self-employment are $400 or more, or
- you had church employee income of $108.28 or more.

Note: If you are a member of the clergy or a religious worker, you may not have to pay self-employment tax if you meet certain exemption requirements.

Schedule SE is shown later in this lesson. For more information, see Form 1040 Instructions and Publication 533, SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX.

Estimated Tax

Many sole proprietors, partners and S corporation shareholders must pay estimated taxes during the year. To determine if you must pay it, estimate your taxable income for the year. Include your self-employment income and all other taxable income. Also estimate how much of your income will be subject to withholding.

Your estimated tax is the amount by which the total of your estimated income tax and self-employment tax exceeds the tax you expect to have withheld from your wages, if any. You do not have to pay estimated tax if you reasonably expect your estimated tax owed to be less than $1,000.

Use the worksheet that comes with Form 1040-ES, ESTIMATED TAX FOR INDIVIDUALS, or the Annualized Worksheet in Publication 505, TAX WITHHOLDING AND ESTIMATED TAX, to figure the amount and decide if you must pay estimated tax. Corporations figure their estimated tax on Form 1120-W (Worksheet), ESTIMATED TAX FOR CORPORATIONS.

Business Deductions and Credits

In place of deductions for expenses to reduce the profit of the business, a business may elect to claim all or part of the eligible business expense as a tax credit. Although both deductions and credits lower your tax, they differ. Deductions are subtracted from income, and credits are subtracted from tax. Often it is best to compute the item each way—as a deduction, then a new computation omitting the item as an expense, but figuring it as a credit. Select the method that accurately gives the greater benefit. Caution: the same expense and dollar amount cannot be used for both a deduction and credit.

The Work Opportunity Credit (Form 5884) and the Welfare-to-Work Credit (Form 8861) are of particular interest to those who already have, or are thinking about having, employees. The Work Opportunity Credit provides an incentive to hire individuals from targeted groups that have a particularly high unemployment rate or other special employment needs. The amount of the credit depends on when the individual began working for you, generally before January 1, 2004. For more information, see Form 8861, WELFARE-TO-WORK CREDIT.

The Welfare-to-Work Credit is a credit that you can take for qualified wages you pay to qualified long-term family assistance recipients who started working for you after December 31, 1997 and before January 1, 2004.

You must receive certification from your state employment security agency before claiming either credit. Submit Form 8850, PRESCREENING NOTICE AND CERTIFICATION REQUEST FOR THE WORK OPPORTUNITY AND WELFARE-TO-WORK CREDITS, no later than 21 days after the employee begins working for you. For more information, see Publication 954, TAX INCENTIVES FOR EMPOWERMENT ZONES AND OTHER DISTRESSED COMMUNITIES contains the requirements for these and other credits.

Travel,
Transportation
and Entertainment
Expenses

Travel expenses are the ordinary and necessary expenses for traveling overnight away from home in the course of your trade or business. These expenses include the cost of public transportation, operating and maintaining your car, meals, lodging and other related expenses.

Transportation expenses are the ordinary and necessary expenses of getting from one workplace to another in the course of your business or profession, while you are not away from home. Business entertainment expenses are deductible only if they are ordinary and necessary expenses of carrying on your trade or business and you can prove them.

For more information, see Publication 334 and Publication 463, TRAVEL, ENTERTAINMENT, GIFT AND CAR EXPENSES.

Car Expenses

If you use a car for business only, you may base your deduction on the full cost of operating it. If you use the car for both business and personal purposes, you must divide your expenses between those uses on the basis of mileage to compute a business percentage. Do not include commuting to and from work as business mileage.

You may take a deduction for your actual business expenses for the car, or use a standard mileage rate. However, to use the standard mileage rate on a vehicle after the first year of business use, you must have used the standard mileage rate the first year. In later years you can alternate between standard mileage and actual expenses. This alternating option is not available to you if actual expenses are claimed the first year of business use. Under either system, parking fees, and tolls are deductible. Actual business expenses include gas, oil, repairs, insurance, depreciation, tires and license plates. In 2001, the standard mileage rate was 34.5¢ per business mile, the rate increased to 36.5 cents for the year 2002.

For more information, refer to Publication 463 also read Publication 946, HOW TO DEPRECIATE PROPERTY.

Business Use of Your Home

If you use part of your home in your business regularly and exclusively, you may be able to claim part of the expenses of maintaining your home as a business expense. Special rules apply if you use part of your home as a day care center or to store inventory. These expenses include mortgage interest, insurance, utilities, repairs and depreciation or rent. The business use of your home must meet certain other requirements before you can take any of these expenses as business deductions.

To deduct your expenses for business use of your home if you are self-employed, use Schedule C (Form 1040) and Form 8829, EXPENSES FOR BUSINESS USE OF YOUR HOME. An employee must use line 20 of Schedule A (Form 1040), to itemize this miscellaneous deduction. For more information, see Publication 587, BUSINESS USE OF YOUR HOME, and Lesson 4 in this workbook.

Retirement Plans

If you establish a retirement arrangement for yourself and/or your employees, you may be able to take a deduction for your contributions to the plan. The plans discussed here are popular among up-and-coming businesses.

As a plan for yourself, you can establish a traditional individual retirement arrangement (IRA) or the new Roth IRA. If you are a sole proprietor or a member of a partnership, you can have a qualified plan. If requirements are met, you may not be taxed on certain amounts you pay into the plan, or on the plan's earnings, until they are distributed to you in future years. Many employers elect to include employees in their qualified plan.

If you have employees, both you and they can set up simplified employee pensions (SEPs). A SEP is a kind of IRA that was designed for employers whose employees have worked for them at least 3 years; the SEP has very few administrative burdens or costs.

You can set up and contribute up to 15% of his or her earnings to a SEP for each of your employees, then deduct the contribution (up to $40,000 for the 2002 tax year).

Another option is you can set up a savings incentive-matching plan for employees called a SIMPLE plan if you have 100 or fewer employees and meet several other requirements. Under this plan, the employer makes contributions to employees' IRAs. The two types of plans are the SIMPLE IRA and SIMPLE 401(k).

For more information on these pension plan options, see Publication 590, INDIVIDUAL RETIREMENT ARRANGEMENTS (IRAs) AND QUALIFIED PLANS and Publication 560, RETIREMENT PLANS FOR SMALL BUSINESS (SEP, SIMPLE AND QUALIFIED PLANS).

Health Insurance Deduction for the Self-Employed

If not otherwise covered by an employer's subsidized health insurance plan, you may be able to deduct 70% (100% in the years 2003 and later) of the amount you paid for medical insurance for yourself and your family. You deduct this amount in the "Adjustment" section on the front of on line 28 of Form 1040 (2001). For more information including a worksheet, see Chapter 7 in Publication 535, BUSINESS EXPENSES.

Business Start-Up Costs

Start-up costs are those expenses that you have in connection with setting up an active trade or business, or for investigating the possibility of creating or acquiring an active trade or business.

Depreciation and Section 179

Generally, you can amortize these costs over a 60-month period after you begin operating your business. For more information, see Chapter 9 of Publication 535.

If you buy property for use in your business that has a life of more than 1 year, you may deduct its cost or other basis over a number of years. This practice is called depreciation. Do not depreciate land, inventory, or property you placed in service and disposed of in the same year.

Depreciation of Business Property

You can depreciate property that meets all of the following basic requirements:

- the property must be used in business or held for the production of income,
- the property must have a determinable useful life which must be longer than one year, and
- the property must be something that wears out, decays, gets used up, becomes obsolete or loses value from natural causes.

The method for depreciating most tangible property placed in service after 1986 is the Modified Accelerated Cost Recovery System (MACRS). Note: Tangible property is any property that can be seen or touched, like buildings, cars, machinery or equipment.

Section 179 Deduction

You can choose to deduct a limited amount (for 2000, up to $20,000; for 2001 and up to $24,000 for 2002 tax year) of the cost of certain depreciable property in the year you buy it for use in your business. This deduction is known as the “section 179 deduction.”

Use Form 4562, DEPRECIATION AND AMORTIZATION, to figure your section 179 deduction. Publication 946 explains what costs you can and cannot deduct, how to figure the MACRS deduction for depreciation and Section 179 and when to recapture the deductions.

Pub.535 discusses specific business expense deductions and Pub. 954, TAX INCENTIVES, discusses credits you may be eligible to claim towards reducing federal taxes on profits of your business.

Lesson 2

Employment Taxes

Introduction

This lesson introduces federal employment taxes. It briefly explains your responsibilities as an employer to withhold and pay these taxes, and it gives other related information.

Employment taxes represent the income tax and social security and Medicare taxes (FICA taxes) withheld from the wages of an employee plus the employer's share of social security taxes and employer paid federal unemployment (FUTA) taxes. The withheld (employee's) portions of employment taxes are referred to as "trust fund" taxes.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson you will be able to:

1. Determine an employer's responsibility for income tax withholding, social security and Medicare (FICA) taxes and federal unemployment (FUTA) taxes.
2. Determine the need for various forms related to employment taxes.
3. Determine the need for forms related to non-employee/ miscellaneous payments.

Employer Identification Number (EIN)

When you start or buy a business, you may need to apply for an EIN to identify the tax returns of your business. If you don't already have an EIN, you need to get one if you:

- pay wages to employees,
- are required to withhold taxes for nonwage payments,
- have a self-employed retirement plan,
- operate your business as a corporation, partnership or
- are required to file any of these tax returns:
 - employment,
 - excise,
 - fiduciary or
 - alcohol, tobacco and firearms.

Note: If you are a sole proprietor with no employees and don't meet any of the listed filing requirements, you do not need an EIN. If you need a number solely to identify your business's bank account, do not apply for an EIN but use your social security number (SSN) instead. This will save both you and the IRS paperwork and unnecessary correspondence.

Form SS-4

If you have not applied for an EIN and you are required to have one, you should obtain Form SS-4, APPLICATION FOR EMPLOYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER, from the IRS. (See Exhibit 2.1.) The completed application should be mailed to the Internal Revenue Service Campus where you file your federal tax returns.

Fill out the SS-4 with the information requested in each box that applies.

Use your EIN on all the items you send to the IRS and Social Security Administration (SSA).

You should have only one EIN for yourself as a sole proprietor. For example, if you operate more than one sole proprietorship, you must use the same number for each. If you take over another employer's sole proprietorship, do not use that employer's EIN. If you have an EIN, use it. If not, apply for one.

Once you have received an EIN, you use it from one year to the next. If you change your business from a sole proprietorship, for example, to a corporation or partnership, apply for a new EIN. If you haven't received your number by the time a return is due, write "Applied for" and the date applied for in the EIN space.

Note: Each separate partnership and corporation must have its own EIN.

Apply for your EIN well before your tax returns are due to allow for IRS processing time. You may be able to obtain an EIN sooner by telephone or fax. See the instructions for Form SS-4 and Publication 1635, UNDERSTANDING YOUR EIN, for more information.

Employer/Employees

It is important to know whether you are considered an employer for tax purposes. A person or organization may be an employer for purposes of one kind of tax but not for another. A person who works for you may be classified as a common-law employee, a statutory employee or an independent contractor. The classification of the person determines which forms you must file, which taxes you must pay and deposit requirements. For more information on these classifications, see Publication 15-A, EMPLOYER'S SUPPLEMENTAL TAX GUIDE.

Generally, anyone who performs services for you is your employee if you can control what will be done and how it will be done. This is so even when you give the employee freedom of action. What matters is that you have the right to control the details of how the services are performed. Publication 15-A has more information on how to determine whether an individual providing services is an independent contractor or an employee.

To get a determination from the IRS as to whether or not a worker is an employee, file Form SS-8, DETERMINATION OF EMPLOYEE WORK STATUS FOR PURPOSES OF FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT TAXES AND INCOME TAX WITHHOLDING.

Independent Contractors

An independent contractor performs services for you, but is not under your direct control. Generally, people in business for themselves are not employees. For example, doctors, lawyers, veterinarians, construction contractors and others in an independent trade in which they offer their services to the public are usually not employees. However, whether such people are employees or independent contractors depends on the facts in each case. The general rule is that an individual is an independent contractor if you, the employer, have the right to control or direct only the result of the work and not the means and methods of accomplishing the result.

See Publication 15-A for more information.

Form W-4

To know how much federal income tax to withhold from an employee's wages, you should have a Form W-4, EMPLOYEE'S WITHHOLDING ALLOWANCE CERTIFICATE, on file for each employee. The amount to be withheld is determined by the employee's gross wages and the information submitted by the employee on Form W-4. (See Exhibit 2.2.)

This information includes:

- employee's marital status;
- number of withholding allowances claimed;
- employee's request to have additional tax withheld or
- employee's claim to exemption from withholding.

Ask each new employee to give you a signed Form W-4 by his or her first day of work. This certificate is effective with the first wage payment and will last until the employee files a new certificate.

If an employee does not give you a Form W-4, withhold tax as if the employee were a single person who has claimed no withholding allowances. If not enough tax is withheld and your employee has not provided a Form W-4 or has claimed an Exemption from withholding, he or she may be subject to penalties. An employee who claims exemption from withholding must renew his or her status by filing a new Form W-4 with you by February 15 of each year.

Note: Student status does not automatically exempt the employee from income tax withholding.

Generally, Forms W-4 are for your records. They need not be sent to IRS unless:

- the employee claims more than 10 withholding allowances or
- the employee normally earns more than $200 per week and claims exemption from withholding on Line 7.

For more information on withholding, see Publication 505, TAX WITHHOLDING AND ESTIMATED TAX. You can help your employees determine whether they are having the right amount of income tax withheld by ordering copies of Publication 919, HOW DO I ADJUST MY TAX WITHHOLDING?

Form W-4 (2002)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so your employer can withhold the correct Federal income tax from your pay. Because your tax situation may change, you may want to refigure your withholding each year.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2002 expires February 16, 2003. See Pub. 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Note: You cannot claim exemption from withholding if (a) your income exceeds $750 and includes more than $250 of unearned income (e.g., interest and dividends) and (b) another person can claim you as a dependent on their tax return.

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheets on page 2 adjust your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two-earner/two-job situations. Complete all worksheets that apply. However, you may claim fewer (or zero) allowances.

Head of household. Generally, you may claim head of household filing status on your tax return only if you are unmarried and pay more than 50% of the costs of keeping up a home for yourself and your dependent(s) or other qualifying individuals. See line E below.

Tax credits. You can take projected tax credits into account in figuring your allowable number of withholding allowances. Credits for child or dependent care expenses and the child tax credit may be claimed using the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. See Pub. 919, How Do I Adjust My Tax Withholding? for information on converting your other credits into withholding allowances.

Nonwage income. If you have a large amount of nonwage income, such as interest or dividends, consider making estimated tax payments using Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals. Otherwise, you may owe additional tax.

Two earners/two jobs. If you have a working spouse or more than one job, figure the total number of allowances you are entitled to claim on all jobs using worksheets from only one Form W-4. Your withholding usually will be most accurate when all allowances are claimed on the Form W-4 for the highest paying job and zero allowances are claimed on the others.

Nonresident alien. If you are a nonresident alien, see the Instructions for Form 8233 before completing this Form W-4.

Check your withholding. After your Form W-4 takes effect, use Pub. 919 to see how the dollar amount you are having withheld compares to your projected total tax for 2002. See Pub. 919, especially if you used the Two-Earner/Two-Job Worksheet on page 2 and your earnings exceed $125,000 (Single) or $175,000 (Married).

Recent name change? If your name on line 1 differs from that shown on your social security card, call 1-800-772-1213 for a new social security card.

A Enter "1" for yourself if no one else can claim you as a dependent A _____

B Enter "1" if:
 • You are single and have only one job; or
 • You are married, have only one job, and your spouse does not work; or
 • Your wages from a second job or your spouse's wages (or the total of both) are $1,000 or less. B _____

C Enter "1" for your spouse. But, you may choose to enter "-0-" if you are married and have either a working spouse or more than one job. (Entering "-0-" may help you avoid having too little tax withheld.) C _____

D Enter number of dependents (other than your spouse or yourself) you will claim on your tax return D _____

E Enter "1" if you will file as head of household on your tax return (see conditions under Head of household above) E _____

F Enter "1" if you have at least $1,500 of child or dependent care expenses for which you plan to claim a credit F _____

(Note: Do not include child support payments. See Pub. 503, Child and Dependent Care Expenses, for details.)

G Child Tax Credit (including additional child tax credit):
 • If your total income will be between $15,000 and $42,000 ($20,000 and $65,000 if married), enter "1" for each eligible child plus 1 additional if you have three to five eligible children or 2 additional if you have six or more eligible children.
 • If your total income will be between $42,000 and $80,000 ($65,000 and $115,000 if married), enter "1" if you have one or two eligible children, "2" if you have three eligible children, "3" if you have four eligible children, or "4" if you have five or more eligible children. G _____

H Add lines A through G and enter total here. Note: This may be different from the number of exemptions you claim on your tax return. H _____

For accuracy, complete all worksheets that apply.
 • If you plan to itemize or claim adjustments to income and want to reduce your withholding, see the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet on page 2.
 • If you have more than one job or are married and you and your spouse both work and the combined earnings from all jobs exceed $35,000, see the Two-Earner/Two-Job Worksheet on page 2 to avoid having too little tax withheld.
 • If neither of the above situations applies, stop here and enter the number from line H on line 5 of Form W-4 below.

Information Returns

Form 1099-MISC

You do not withhold income tax or social security and Medicare taxes from, or pay social security and Medicare taxes or federal unemployment tax on amounts you pay an independent contractor/nonemployee. Generally, if you pay at least $600 during the year to an independent contractor/nonemployee for services (including parts and materials) performed in the course of your business, you must furnish a Form 1099-MISC (Miscellaneous Income) to that person by January 31 of the following year. (See Exhibit 2.4.).

You will need the social security number or EIN of an independent contractor in order to complete Form 1099-MISC. If the independent contractor is a sole proprietor, their SSN is preferred. Always ask the independent contractor to complete Form W-9, REQUEST FOR TAXPAYER IDENTIFICATION NUMBER AND CERTIFICATION, before beginning work. (See Exhibit 2.5.) If you do not obtain an SSN or EIN before you pay the contractor, you must withhold income tax from the payment. This is called backup withholding. Backup withholding rules require that 30% of the payment be withheld. Report the backup withholding on Form 945, ANNUAL RETURN OF WITHHELD FEDERAL INCOME TAX, discussed in Lesson 3.

Form W-2

You must furnish a copy of Form W-2, WAGE AND TAX STATEMENT, to each employee to whom you paid wages during the year. (See Exhibit 2.6.)

Form W-2 must show total wages and other compensation paid (even if not subject to withholding); total wages subject to social security and Medicare taxes; allocated tips (if any); amounts deducted for income, social security and Medicare taxes; and the total advance earned income credit payment (discussed later). In all cases, you must give each of your employees the statement by January 31 following the end of the calendar year covered. If not computer-generated, every effort should be made to ensure that Forms W-2 provided to employees are legible.

If employment ends before the close of the year, the employee may request the form earlier. You must give the employee a Form W-2 within 30 days of the employee’s request or within 30 days of the final wage payment, whichever is later.

You should keep any undeliverable employee copies of Form W-2 (Copies B and C) as part of your records for 4 years.

Income Tax

The wages you pay your employees generally are subject to income tax withholding if their wages for any payroll period are more than the dollar amount of their withholding allowances for that period. The amount to be withheld is figured separately for each payroll period. Wages include all pay you give an employee for services performed. The pay may be in cash or in other forms. It includes salaries, vacation allowances, bonuses, commissions and fringe benefits not excluded by law. It does not matter how payments are measured or paid. Wages paid in any form other than money (such as goods, lodging and meals) are measured by the fair market value. See Publication 15, EMPLOYER'S TAX GUIDE (Circular E) for more information about income tax withholding and requirements to deposit withheld taxes.

Tipped Employees

Tips your employees receive are generally subject to withholding. Each employee who receives at least $20 in tips in a month must report to you all tips they receive. This report must be made by the 10th day of each month following the month in which the tips are received. Tips that an employee receives directly from customers and tips that charge customers add to the bill and you pay to the employee must be reported. Your employee reports the tips on Form 4070, EMPLOYEE'S REPORT ON TIPS TO EMPLOYER, or a similar form. See Publication 1244, EMPLOYEE'S DAILY RECORD OF TIPS AND REPORT OF TIPS TO EMPLOYER, which includes Form 4070, for more information.

Note: There are special tip reporting requirements for large food and beverage establishments. These businesses provide food and beverages for consumption on the premises, tipping is customary, and they usually employ more than 10 employees on a typical business day. These rules affect only the reporting requirements.

All Employees

The income tax to be withheld is figured on gross wages before any deductions are made for social security and Medicare taxes, pension, union dues, insurance, etc. You may figure the withholding by different methods, the most common of which are the percentage method and the wage bracket tables method. Publication 15 contains the applicable tables and instructions for using both of these withholding methods, and it gives more information on reporting and withholding requirements on wages and tip income.

Social Security and Medicare Taxes

Under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA), you must withhold social security and Medicare taxes from wages that you pay your employees each payroll period.

Generally, meals, lodging, clothing, services and other payments in kind are subject to social security and Medicare taxes, as are wages paid in cash. However, meals are not taxable wages if furnished for the employer's convenience and on the employer's premises.

Lodging is not taxable if furnished for the employer's convenience, on the employer's premises and as a condition of employment.

You, as an employer, must withhold and deposit the employee's part of the taxes and pay a matching amount. The social security tax is withheld from the employee's gross wages until the employee's cumulative wages for the year reach the wage base limit. Any wages above the wage base limit are not subject to social security tax withholding. However, there is no wage base limit for Medicare tax; all covered wages are subject to Medicare tax.

For 2002, the limit for wages subject to social security tax is $84,900. The social security tax rate is 6.2% for the employee and 6.2% for the employer (12.4% total). The Medicare tax rate for the employee is 1.45% and 1.45% for the employer (2.9% total). This means that in 2002 you are to withhold employee social security and Medicare taxes at the total rate of 7.65% (6.2% up to $84,900 plus 1.45% for all wages) and pay, or deposit, 15.30% (the total of the employee share and the employer's matching share of 7.65%).

Federal Unemployment Tax

The Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) provides for the states and the Federal Government to cooperate in establishing and administering an unemployment tax program. Most employers pay both a federal and a state unemployment tax. The federal unemployment program was enacted to encourage the states to provide payment to workers who have lost their jobs. Only the employer pays FUTA tax; it is not deducted from an employee's wages. For 2002, federal unemployment tax is figured on the first $7,000 you pay to each employee during the year. See Publication 15 and the INSTRUCTIONS FOR FORM 940 for more information.

Successor Employer

If you acquired all or substantially all of the property used in the business of another employer, you may, in figuring the wage limit for social security and federal unemployment tax purposes, include the wages that employer paid to the employees who continue to work for you.

Earned Income Credit (EIC)

The EIC is a tax credit for certain workers whose earned income is below a certain level. Because it is a “credit,” the EIC is subtracted from the amount of tax owed. Even workers who have not filed a tax return in the previous year, because their wages were below the minimum income-level requirements to file, may be able to receive the credit — but only if they file a tax return. Therefore, you must notify each employee who worked for you at any time during the year, and from whom you did not withhold any income tax, about the EIC. You will meet the notification requirements by giving the employee either Notice 797, POSSIBLE REFUND ON YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX RETURNS BECAUSE OF THE EARNED INCOME CREDIT (EIC); your own written statement as long as it has the exact wording of Notice 797; or the official IRS Form W-2, WAGE AND TAX STATEMENT, which contains a statement on the back of Copy C. Exception: You do not need to notify those employees who claimed exemption from withholding on Form W-4, EMPLOYEE’S WITHHOLDING ALLOWANCE CERTIFICATE.

An employee who expects to earn less than $29,201 in 2002 and has a qualifying child can receive advance payments of up to 60% of the maximum credit for one qualifying child. For 2002, this is $1,503. To claim the advance EIC, eligible employees must provide you a properly completed Form W-5, EARNED INCOME CREDIT ADVANCE PAYMENT CERTIFICATE. (See Exhibit 2.7.) You use the advance EIC tables in Publication 15 each payroll period to figure the correct amount of advance payment to include in the employee’s pay. For depositing purposes, the advance payment first reduces the withheld income tax and then the employee and employer social security and Medicare taxes, thereby reducing your total tax liability.

Reminder: Do not continue advance EIC payments to an employee on wages of less than $29,201 ($30,201 if married filing jointly) in 2002.

For more information, see Publication 15.

Note: In 2002, an employee’s advance EIC payments are limited to a total of $1,503, although the credit may be more. They will have to claim any additional amount of EIC on their tax return.

Instructions

Changes To Note

Beginning in 2002, new rules apply to determine who is a qualifying child for purposes of the earned income credit (EIC). See page 2. Also, nontaxable earned income and modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) are no longer taken into account to determine who is eligible for the credit or the amount of the credit. Taxable earned income and AGI are used instead.

Purpose

Use Form W-5 if you are eligible to get part of the EIC in advance with your pay and choose to do so. See Who Is Eligible To Get Advance EIC Payments? below. The amount you can get in advance generally depends on your wages. If you are married, the amount of your advance EIC payments also depends on whether your spouse has filed a Form W-5 with his or her employer. However, your employer cannot give you more than $1,503 throughout 2002 with your pay. You will get the rest of any EIC you are entitled to when you file your tax return and claim the EIC.

If you do not choose to get advance payments, you can still claim the EIC on your 2002 tax return.

What Is the EIC?

The EIC is a credit for certain workers. It reduces the tax you owe. It may give you a refund even if you do not owe any tax.

Who Is Eligible To Get Advance EIC Payments?

You are eligible to get advance EIC payments if all three of the following apply.

1. You expect to have at least one qualifying child. If you do not expect to have a qualifying child, you may still be eligible for the EIC, but you cannot receive advance EIC payments. See Who Is a Qualifying Child? on page 2.

2. You expect that your 2002 earned income and AGI will each be less than $29,201 ($30,201 if you expect to file a joint return for 2002). Include your spouse's income if you plan to file a joint return. As used on this form, earned income does not include amounts inmates in penal institutions are paid for their work, amounts received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a section 457 plan, or nontaxable earned income.

3. You expect to be able to claim the EIC for 2002. To find out if you may be able to claim the EIC, answer the questions on page 2.

Workfare payments. These are cash payments certain people receive from a state or local agency that administers public assistance programs funded under the Federal Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) program in return for certain work activities such as (a) work experience activities (including work associated with remodeling or repairing publicly assisted housing) if sufficient private sector employment is not available or (b) community service program activities.

How To Get Advance EIC Payments

If you are eligible to get advance EIC payments, fill in the 2002 Form W-5 at the bottom of this page. Then, detach it and give it to your employer. If you get advance payments, you must file a 2002 Federal income tax return.

You may have only one Form W-5 in effect at one time. If you and your spouse are both employed, you should file separate Forms W-5.

Note: If you get advance payments of the earned income credit for 2002, you must file a 2002 Federal income tax return. To get advance payments, you must have a qualifying child and your filing status must be any status except married filing a separate return.

Form W-3 and Form 1096

Each year, you must file Form W-3, TRANSMITTAL OF WAGE AND TAX STATEMENTS, in order to transmit Copy A of Forms W-2 to the Social Security Administration by the last day of February after the calendar year for which the Forms W-2 are prepared. The Social Security Administration will process these forms and provide the IRS with the income tax data that it needs from those forms. The mailing address for the forms is on Form W-3.

Note: The totals on the Form W-3 you file each year should equal the total of all Forms 941 filed for the year.

Form 1096, Annual Summary and Transmittal of U.S. Information Returns, is used to transmit copy A of Forms 1099, 1098, 5498 and W-2G to the Internal Revenue Service. You must file Form 1096 with each type of return by February 28. If you file electronically, you may file by March 31.

In completing all transmittal documents (Forms W-3 and 1096) and information returns, you must use the same taxpayer identification number regardless of whether you file transmittals from more than one location. (See Exhibits 2.8 and 2.9.)

Use the same name on transmittals and information returns that you use on the income tax return or other returns you file under the same taxpayer identification number.

If information returns are prepared at different business locations, or if you are engaged in business with a “doing business as” (dba) name, there must be two name lines. The first name line contains the primary name (name shown on the income tax return). The second name line identifies the specific business location or is the “dba” name.

Example 1

A business has two different locations:
Able Industries EIN: 10-0101010
Shareholder Relations Dept.
333 Main Street
Mapleville, MO 33333

Able Industries EIN: 10-0101010
Western Office
222 Metropolitan Avenue
Miliville, UT 22222

Example 2

The following taxpayers have “dba” names:

John Oak
Maple City Auto Repair
123 Main Street
Maple City, NC 11111

Jane Apple
Hometown Accounting Service
25 Cherry Street
Rosewood, OR 99999

Instructions

Purpose of form. Use this form to transmit paper Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G to the Internal Revenue Service. Do not use Form 1096 to transmit magnetic media. See Form 4804, Transmittal of Information Returns Reported Magnetically.

Who must file. The name, address, and TIN of the filer on this form must be the same as those you enter in the upper left area of Form 1099, 1098, 5498, or W-2G. A filer includes a payer, a recipient of mortgage interest payments (including points) or student loan interest, an educational institution, a broker, a barter exchange, a creditor, a person reporting real estate transactions, a trustee or issuer of any individual retirement arrangement or an Archer MSA (including a Medicare+Choice MSA), and a lender who acquires an interest in secured property or who has reason to know that the property has been abandoned.

Preaddressed Form 1096. If you received a preaddressed Form 1096 from the IRS with Package 1099, use it to transmit paper Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G to the Internal Revenue Service. If any of the imprinted information is incorrect, make corrections on the form.

Note: You will no longer receive an IRS-prepared label with your Package 1099.

If you are not using a preaddressed form, enter the filer's name, address (including room, suite, or other unit number), and TIN in the spaces provided on the form.

When to file. File Form 1096 with Forms 1099, 1098, or W-2G by February 28, 2003. File Form 1096 with Forms 5498 by June 2, 2003.

Where To File

Send all information returns filed on paper with Form 1096 to the following:

If your principal business, office or agency, or legal residence in the case of an individual, is located in	Use the following Internal Revenue Service Center address
Alabama, Arizona, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, North Carolina, Texas, Virginia	Austin, TX 73301
Arkansas, Connecticut, Delaware, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, West Virginia	Cincinnati, OH 45999
Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Wisconsin	Kansas City, MO 64999

For more information and the Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice, see the 2002 General Instructions for Forms 1099, 1098, 5498, and W-2G. Cat. No. 144000 Form 1096 (2002)

Correcting Forms W-2 and W-3

If there is an error on Forms W-2 or W-3, correct by filing Form W-2c, CORRECTED WAGE AND TAX STATEMENT, and Form W-3c, TRANSMITTAL OF CORRECTED OF CORRECTED WAGE AND TAX STATEMENTS. (See instructions on the forms for detailed instructions)

Filing on Magnetic Media or Electronically

Generally, the Social Security Administration will accept magnetic media or electronic records of Copy A for Forms W-2 or W-3 with prior approval. See the separate INSTRUCTIONS FOR FORM W-2 or W-3 for details about required magnetic media filing. If you file 250 or more Forms W-2 or 1099, you must file them on magnetic media or electronically. The 250 requirement applies separately for each type of information return and separately for each type of corrected return. When filed electronically, the due date is March 31 instead of February 28 to submit the forms.

The IRS encourages filers to transmit information returns electronically because it is generally more cost effective and easier than paper or magnetic media. To participate in the program, filers must submit a Form 4419, APPLICATION FOR FILING INFORMATION RETURNS MAGNETICALLY/ELECTRONICALLY, at least 30 days before the due date of the return(s) for current year processing.

Information Reporting Call Site

The IRS operates a centralized call site to answer questions about reporting on Forms W-3, W-2, 1096 and 1099 and other information returns. If you have questions related to reporting on information returns, you may email them to mccirp@irs.gov or call 1 (866) 455-7438 (toll-free), Monday through Friday, 8:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M. (EST).

Penalties

The following is a list of ten penalties that may be assessed for not complying with certain filing and payment requirements:

1. Failure to file.
2. Failure to pay.
3. Dishonored check.
4. Failure to timely file an information return with IRS or SSA.
5. Failure to timely furnish a copy of any information return to the payee.
6. Failure to file a partnership return.
7. Failure to make Federal Tax Deposits on time in an authorized government depository.
8. Failure to furnish specific information on an information return, such as including taxpayer identification numbers.
9. Failure to collect and/or pay over Trust Fund taxes (Trust Fund Recovery Penalty).
10. Failure to make deposits electronically if required to do so.

Putting It All Together

In this lesson you:

- briefly studied employment taxes;
- reviewed the Employer Identification Number (EIN);
- learned the definitions of “employee” and “independent contractor” for tax purposes;
- learned about Forms W-4, I-9 and information Forms 1099- MISC, W-9 and W-2;
- learned about Forms W-3 correct errors on Forms W-2 and W-3;
- read about transmitting Forms W-3, W-2, 1096 and 1099 on magnetic media or electronically and
- learned about 10 penalties that may be assessed for not complying with certain filing and payment requirements.

In this lesson you were introduced to the following subjects:

- federal income tax withheld from employees;
- social security and Medi-care taxes (withheld from employees and paid by employers) and federal unemployment taxes;
- successor employer and
- Earned Income Credit.

Lesson 3

Part I: Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return

Introduction

If you are an employer who is required to withhold income or social security and Medicare taxes, you must file a return reporting the amounts withheld. Form 941, EMPLOYER'S QUARTERLY FEDERAL TAX RETURN, is used for this purpose. However, other forms are used in certain circumstances. (See Exhibit 3.1 on page 3-4.)

If you are a sole proprietor and file Form 941 for business employees, you may include household employees on the form. Also, if you operate a farm for profit and file Form 943, EMPLOYER'S ANNUAL TAX RETURN FOR AGRICULTURAL EMPLOYEES, for your agricultural employees, you may include farm household workers on that form.

Form 945, ANNUAL RETURN OF WITHHELD FEDERAL INCOME TAX, is used to report income tax withheld from non-payroll payments, such as pensions, IRAs, gambling winnings and backup withholding.

Publication 15, EMPLOYER'S TAX GUIDE (Circular E), explains the rules and methods for withholding, paying, depositing and reporting federal income tax, social security and Medicare taxes and federal unemployment (FUTA) tax on wages, tips and fringe benefits. It also explains who is an employee, what are taxable wages and what are taxable tips.

Publication 15-A, EMPLOYER'S SUPPLEMENTAL TAX GUIDE, provides specialized information supplementing the basic employment tax information provided in Circular E, such as a more detailed discussion on the employment tax treatment of fringe benefits and information on how to report third-party sick pay.

Publication 15-B, EMPLOYER'S TAX GUIDE TO FRINGE BENEFITS, contains detailed information on fringe benefits and their exclusion and valuation rules.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, you will be able to:

1. Determine Form 941 deposit requirements.
2. Prepare a Form 941.

Due Dates for Filing Form 941Form 941

Form 941 is due the last day of the month after each quarter ends. The return filing dates are listed below:

Due Dates for Filing Form 941
Quarter	Ends	Due Date
January, February, March	Mar. 31	Apr. 30*
April, May, June	June 30	July 31*
July, August, September	Sept. 30	Oct. 31*
October, November, December	Dec. 31	Jan. 31*

If the due date for a return falls on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday, the due date is the next business day.*

If you paid the quarterly tax payments in full, you are allowed an additional 10 days to file the return. For example, your return for the quarter that ends on June 30 would be due on August 10 instead of July 31.

Do not file more than one Form 941 per quarter and do not report more than one calendar quarter on a return.

Seasonal employers are not required to file for quarters when they regularly have no tax liability because they have paid no wages. To alert the IRS that you will not have to file a return for one or more quarters during the year, check the seasonal employer box above line 1 on Form 941 each time you file. The IRS will mail two Forms 941 to you once a year after March 1. The preprinted name and address information will not include the date the quarter ended. You must enter that date when you file the return.

If you are not a seasonal employer, but you receive a preaddressed Form 941 for a quarter in which you have no employees or may have temporarily stopped paying salaries, file a return anyway. This ensures that you will continue to receive Form 941 from the campus.

If you cease to do business or pay wages, you need to file a final return. The instructions for Form 941 give information on how to file if you sell, transfer or merge your business with another business.

Always use the preaddressed form mailed to you. If you do not receive a preaddressed form, print or type your name and address exactly as shown on the previous return unless the information has changed.

The date your quarter ends and your EIN must also be shown. If you have not yet received notification of your EIN, write “Applied for” and the date you applied in the space provided for the EIN.

Form 941

Complete the state code boxes if you made your deposits in a state other than that shown in your address on Form 941. Enter the state code for the state where you made deposits in the box provided in the upper left corner of the form. Enter code “MU” in the box if you deposit in more than one state. If you deposit in the same state as shown in your address, do not make an entry. If you deposited electronically (discussed on page 3-10) do not make an entry here.

Complete lines 1 through 17, if applicable. Specific Form 941 line entries are discussed below. More complete information on these line entries is contained in the instructions for Form 941.

Line 1.

Make an entry for the pay period including March 12, on the 1st quarter (January–March) return only.

Line 2.

Enter the total of: all wages paid, tips reported, taxable fringe benefits provided and other compensation paid to your employees, even if you do not have to withhold income tax or social security tax on it. Do not include contributions to employee plans that are excluded from the employee’s wages (e.g., section 401(k) and 125 plans).

Line 3.

Enter the income tax you withheld on wages, tips, taxable fringe benefits and certain other payments.

Line 6a.

Taxable social security wages. Enter the total wages subject to social security taxes that you paid your employees during the quarter. Also include any sick pay and taxable fringe benefits subject to social security taxes. Stop reporting when an employee’s wages (including tips) reach the wage base ($84,900 in 2002). Multiply by the applicable percentage printed on the line.

Line 6c.

Taxable social security tips. Enter all tips your employees reported during the quarter, until tips and wages for an employee reach the wage base amount ($84,900 in 2002). Do this even if you were not able to withhold the employee social security tax. See the Form 941 instructions for details on how to make an adjustment for uncollected social security tax on tips.

Line 7a.

Taxable Medicare wages and tips. Report all wages and tips, including any sick pay and taxable fringe benefits subject to Medicare tax. There is no limit on the amount of wages subject to Medicare.

Line 8.

Total social security and Medicare taxes. Check the box if none of the wages are subject to social security or Medicare taxes.

Line 9.

Adjustment of social security and Medicare taxes. A fractions-of-cents adjustment is the small difference that may occur between net taxes (line 13) and total deposits (line 14), because of rounding to the nearest cent each time you computed payroll. This rounding occurs when you figure the amount of social security and Medicare taxes to be withheld from each employee's wages.

To determine if you have a fractions-of-cents adjustment, multiply the total wages and tips for the quarter by the applicable percentage and compare these amounts with the total social security and Medicare taxes actually withheld from your payroll records. The difference, positive or negative, is your fractions-of-cents adjustment.

See Publication 15 for instructions on other adjustments.

Line 12.

Enter any advance EIC payments made to employees.

Line 13.

Net taxes. Make sure the line equals line 17, column (d) below (or line D of Schedule B (Form 941)). (See Exhibit 3.2 on page 3-7.)

Note: If line 13 is $2,500 or more, check the appropriate box below Line 16 indicating your depositor status.

Monthly Summary of Federal Tax Liability

Report on line 17 your employment tax liability for each month based on the date the corresponding wages were paid, not when the payroll period ends. If your total taxes for the quarter are $2,500 or more, you must instead complete a separate Schedule B, EMPLOYER'S RECORD OF FEDERAL TAX LIABILITY, page 3-7 (Exhibit 3.2).

Tax liability is income tax withheld plus both the employee and employer shares of social security and Medicare taxes, minus any advance earned income credit (EIC) payments.

Filing by Other Methods

You may be able to file Form 941 by phone if you meet certain criteria. On-line filing through a personal computer is also an option.

Reporting Agents who file Forms 941 for groups of taxpayers can file them electronically or on tape. See Lesson 5 and Publication 15-A for details.

Beginning in January 2003, tax professionals can file 941 returns electronically. The tax professional must be an authorized e-file provider. See Publication 3112 for more information.

Now that you have covered the background information, you will learn how deposits are made, how information is entered on the form and how the tax due is figured.

Depositing Requirements

In general, you must deposit income tax withheld and both the employer and employee social security and Medicare taxes (minus any advance EIC payments) using the Electronic Federal Payment System (EFTPS) or by mailing or delivering a check, money order or cash to an authorized financial institution or Federal Reserve bank with Form 8109, FEDERAL TAX DEPOSIT COUPON. Some taxpayers are required to deposit using EFTPS.

Payment With Return

You may make a payment with Form 941 instead of depositing it if your net tax liability (reduced by any advance earned income credit) during the quarter (line 13 of Form 941) is less than $2,500. (Exhibit 3.3) See Publication 15 for exceptions.

When to Deposit

There are two deposit schedules – monthly or semiweekly – for determining when you deposit social security, Medicare and withheld income taxes. These schedules tell you when a deposit is due after a tax liability arises (e.g., when you have a payday).

Lookback Period

Your deposit schedule for a calendar year is determined from the total taxes (not reduced by any advance EIC payments) reported on your Forms 941 (line 11) in a four-quarter lookback period. The lookback period for Form 941 filers begins July 1 and ends June 30. (See Exhibit 3.4.) If you reported $50,000 or less of taxes for the lookback period, you are a monthly schedule depositor; if you reported more than $50,000 you are a semiweekly schedule depositor.

EXHIBIT 3.4 – LOOKBACK PERIOD FOR CALENDAR YEAR 2002

Monthly Deposit Schedule

Under the monthly deposit schedule, deposit Form 941 taxes on payments made during a month by the 15th day of the following month.

Note to new employers: During the first calendar year of your business, your tax liability for each quarter, in the lookback period, is considered to be zero. Therefore, you are a monthly schedule depositor for the first calendar year of your business unless the $100,000 Next-Day Deposit rule (discussed on page 3-11) applies.

Semiweekly Deposit Schedule

You are a semiweekly schedule depositor for a calendar year if the total taxes on Form 941 (line 11) during your lookback period were more than $50,000. If the payday falls on Wednesday, Thursday and /or Friday, you must deposit the Form 941 taxes no later than the following Wednesday. (See Exhibit 3.5 below.) If the payday falls on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and/or Tuesday, deposit by Friday.

EXHIBIT 3.5 – SEMIWEEKLY DEPOSIT SCHEDULE

Semiweekly Deposit Schedule
IF the day falls on a...	THEN deposit taxes by the following...
Wednesday, Thursday and/or Friday	Wednesday
Saturday, Sunday, Monday and/or Tuesday	Friday

Application of Monthly and Semiweekly Schedule

The terms “monthly schedule depositor” and “semiweekly schedule depositor” do not refer to how often your business pays its employees or even how often you are required to make deposits. These terms identify a set of deposit rules you must follow when employment tax liability occurs and are based on the date wages are paid.

$100,000 Next-Day Deposit Rule

If you accumulate a tax liability (reduced by any advance EIC payments) of $100,000 or more on any day during a deposit period, you must deposit the tax by the next banking day, regardless of whether you are a monthly or semiweekly schedule depositor. The term deposit period refers to the period during which tax liabilities are accumulated for each required deposit due date. For monthly schedule depositors, the deposit period is a calendar month. If you are a monthly depositor and become subject to the rule, you become a semiweekly depositor for the remainder of the year and all of the following year.

The two methods of depositing employment taxes are by EFTPS and by using Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) coupons (Form 8109).

You are required to make electronic deposits using EFTPS of all your tax liabilities in 2002 if your total deposits of all federal depository taxes were more than $200,000 in 2000 or if you were required to use EFTPS in 2001. For more details, see Publication 15 and Lesson 5.

If you are not required to use EFTPS, you can make your required deposits at an authorized financial institution or Federal Reserve bank (FRB) using FTD coupons. (See Exhibit 3.6 on page 3-12). The IRS will issue you a book of coupons 5 to 6 weeks after you receive your EIN.

Note: Even if you are not required to make electronic tax deposits, you may voluntarily participate in EFTPS. To enroll, call 1-800-945-8400 or 1-800-555-4477.

An employer may be penalized for using the wrong deposit method. Always ensure your deposits are timely because late deposits are subject to penalties. Check with your local depository or FRB for information concerning their cutoff time (exact hour they start dating deposits as received on their next banking day).

Deposit Penalties

Deposits not made in a timely manner may be subject to penalties. For amounts not properly or timely deposited, the penalty rates are:

- 2% - Deposits made 1 to 5 days late.
- 5% - Deposits made 6 to 15 days late.
- 10% - Deposits made 16 or more days late.
- 10% - Deposits made at an unauthorized financial institution, paid directly to the IRS or paid with your tax return. See Publication 15 for exceptions.
- 10% - Amounts that are subject to electronic deposit requirements but not deposited using EFTPS.
- 15% - Amounts still unpaid more than 10 days after the date of the first notice the IRS sent asking for the tax due or the day on which you receive notice and demand for immediate payment, whichever is earlier.

Correcting Form 941

Errors made in figuring taxes in an earlier quarter can be corrected on a current Form 941 by making an adjustment to the current quarter's taxes. Circular E describes in detail how to correct errors to income tax withholding, social security and Medicare taxes.

Note: You may not adjust or claim a refund or credit for any overpayment of income tax that you withheld or deducted from an employee in a prior year. But see Circular E for information on administrative error adjustments.

Summary

In this lesson, you studied:

- Form 941 and its due dates,
- deposit requirements,
- the method of depositing taxes due and
- some of the sections and lines of Form 941.

Remember: Form 941 is a quarterly return, but deposits may be required on a monthly or semiweekly schedule.

General Instructions

Purpose of form. Use Schedule B (Form 941) to report your tax liability (income tax withheld plus both employee and employer social security and Medicare taxes minus any advance earned income credit payments) on a daily basis. Form 941-SS filers report only employee and employer social security and Medicare taxes. Do not show Federal tax deposits. Deposit information is obtained from the deposit coupons (Form 8109) or from the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS).

Example B. Employer B is a semiweekly schedule depositor. It has paydays every other Friday. It accumulated a $20,000 employment tax liability on each of the following pay dates: 1/12/01; 1/26/01; 2/9/01; 2/23/01; 3/9/01; and 3/23/01. Since Employer B is a semiweekly schedule depositor, it is required to record its tax liabilities on Schedule B (Form 941). Employer B must record the $20,000 of liabilities on lines 12 and 26 of part A (First Month of Quarter); lines 9 and 23 of part B (Second Month of Quarter); and lines 9 and 23 of part C (Third Month of Quarter).

Lesson 3

Part II: Form 940, Employer's Annual Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return

Introduction

The Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) provides for states and the federal government to cooperate in establishing and administering the unemployment tax program. The program provides for payments of unemployment compensation to workers who have lost their jobs.

The various states create the actual employment insurance systems. The federal government approves the state laws and pays the administrative costs of the state programs.

Under this dual system, the employer is first subject to a tax levied by the state. This tax then becomes a credit against a separate federal tax. However, you may be exempt from state tax but still have to pay the federal tax.

The federal unemployment (FUTA) tax is reported on Form 940, EMPLOYER'S ANNUAL FEDERAL UNEMPLOYMENT (FUTA) TAX RETURN or Form 940-EZ, EMPLOYER'S ANNUAL FEDERAL UNEMPLOYMENT (FUTA) TAX RETURN. Both forms cover one calendar year and are generally due by January 31 of the following year. (See Exhibits 3.10 and 3.11 on pages 3-26 through 3-31.)

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, you will be able to:

1. Define employer, employee and wages subject to FUTA.
2. Figure the FUTA tax due.
3. Figure the deposits for FUTA taxes.
4. Complete Form 940-EZ.

Who Are Employers?

In general, you are an employer for FUTA tax purposes and must file and pay FUTA tax if, during the current or preceding year, you:

- paid wages of $1,500 or more in any calendar quarter to employees (other than farm workers or household workers) or
- had one or more employees (other than farm workers or household workers) at any time in each of any 20 or more weeks (calendar).

The 20 weeks do not have to be consecutive. Count all regular, temporary and part-time employees, and count employees on vacation or sick leave.

You may be liable for the state unemployment tax and not liable for the FUTA tax. Conversely, you may be exempt from state tax and still have to pay the federal tax. The definition of employer under state laws may differ from the definition under federal law.

Note: The term “employer” as used here refers to a person who is an employer for FUTA tax purposes only. It is possible not to be an employer for FUTA tax purposes and still be an employer for social security and Medicare tax purposes or for purposes of withholding income tax.

Who Are Employees?

The rules used of social security and Medicare tax also apply in determining who are common-law employees FUTA tax.

For FUTA tax, as for social security and Medicare taxes, there are statutory employees and non-employees in addition to common-law employees.

Refer to the charts of special classes of employment in Publication 15 to see which employees are covered by, or are exempt from, FUTA tax.

What Are FUTA Wages?

As with wages for income tax withholding and social security and Medicare tax, FUTA wages generally include money and other forms of payment to employees. For other exceptions, refer to Publication 15 or Publication 15-A.

Wages Not Paid In Money

If you pay your employees in some medium that is neither cash nor a readily negotiable instrument (such as a check), you are said to pay them “in kind.” Payments in kind may be in the form of goods, lodging, food, clothing or services. Generally, wages paid in kind are treated the same way as wages paid in money. The value of a wage payment in kind is its fair market price on the day the payment is made.

Employee Taxes Paid by Employer

Generally, if you pay an employee’s liability for social security and Medicare taxes without deducting the tax from the employee’s pay, you must include the amount of the payment in the employee’s wages the FUTA tax.

Figuring FUTA Tax

The FUTA tax is figured on the first $7,000 in wages paid to each employee during the year. The tax is imposed on you as the employer. You must not collect it or deduct it from the wages you pay your employees.

The current FUTA tax rate is 6.2%. Generally, you can take a credit against your FUTA tax for amounts you paid into state unemployment funds. This credit cannot be more than 5.4% of taxable FUTA wages. If you are entitled to the maximum 5.4% credit, the FUTA tax rate after the credit is 0.8%.

Example

In November 2001, you hired Alice Green, and paid her $3,500 in wages before the year ended. All $3,500 was subject to the FUTA tax. The first $7,000 you pay her in 2002 is also subject to the tax. Alice’s total wages for 2002 reached $7,000 in mid-March. None of the wages you pay her for the remainder of the year are subject to the FUTA tax.

In July, Alice quits her job, and you hire someone to replace her. The first $7,000 you pay Alice’s replacement in 2002 is also subject to the FUTA tax.

Credit for Contributions to States

Contributions are payments that a state requires an employer to make to its unemployment fund for the payment of unemployment benefits. However, contributions do not include:

- Any payments deducted or deductible from your employees’ pay.
- Penalties, interest or special administrative taxes not included in the contribution rate the state assigned to you.

- Voluntary contributions paid to get a lower assigned rate.

You may receive an additional credit if you have a state experience rate lower than 5.4% (.054). This applies even if your rate changes during the year. This additional credit is equal to the difference between actual payments and the amount you would have been required to pay at 5.4%.

The total credit allowable may not be more than 5.4% of taxable FUTA wages.

Note: Credit for state contributions you make after the due date for filing Form 940 may not be more than 90% of the amount that would have been allowable if you had paid the amounts by the due date.

State Experience Rate

Your state experience rate is the rate at which the state taxes your payroll for state unemployment purposes. This rate may be adjusted from time to time based on the number and length of claims for unemployment compensation that your former employees make against the fund. If you do not know your rate, contact your state employment security agency.

If you have been granted an experience rate lower than the maximum credit of 5.4% by a state for all or part of the year, you are still allowed the full credit. However, you cannot take credit for any state taxes for which you are liable and do not pay.

Successor Employer

If you acquire substantially all the property used in the business (or a unit of the business) of a previous employer who was subject to this tax, you may count, for purposes of the $7,000 annual limit, the wages the previous employer paid during the year to the employees who continue to work for you.

Depositing the Tax

If, at the end of any calendar quarter, you owe, but have not yet deposited, more than $100 in FUTA tax, you must make a deposit by the last day of the next month. If the accumulated tax at the end of any of the first three quarters is $100 or less, do not deposit the amount; instead, add it to the tax for the next quarter.

To figure your tax for each quarter, multiply .8% (.008) by the part of the first $7,000 of each employee's annual FUTA tax wages that you paid during the quarter.

When to Deposit

Deposit the FUTA tax by the last day of the first month after the quarter ends.

If your liability for the fourth quarter (plus any amount not deposited from any earlier quarter) is over $100, deposit the entire amount by the due date (January 31) of Form 940 or Form 940-EZ. If it is $100 or less, you can either make a deposit or pay the tax with your Form 940 or 940-EZ by January 31.

How to Deposit

If your FUTA tax liability for any calendar quarter in 2002 is more than $100 (including any FUTA tax carried forward from an earlier quarter), you must deposit the tax using EFTPS or in an authorized financial institution using Form 8109, FEDERAL TAX DEPOSIT COUPON.

Example

Tim Tower has two employees. In each quarter of 2002, George is paid wages of $3,000 and Mark is paid wages of $2,000. Tim's FUTA tax liability for each of the first and second quarters is $40 ($$5,000 \times .008$). He is not required to deposit after the first or second quarter because his liability at the end of the second quarter is $80 (not more than $100). During the third quarter, Tim paid wages of $3,000 subject to FUTA tax. Only $1,000 of George's wages is taxable because $6,000 was paid in the first two quarters. All of Mark's wages are taxable because he has not reached the $7,000 level. Tim's tax liability for the third quarter is $24 ($$3,000 \times .008$). His liability through the third quarter is $104 ($40 for each of the first and second quarters plus $24 for the third). He must deposit $104 by October 31, 2002.

In the fourth quarter, none of George's wages are subject to FUTA but $1,000 of Mark's is taxable. Tim should pay $8. ($$1,000 \times .008$) with Form 940 or 940-EZ.

3 Enter your business name (individual name for sole proprietors).
 Enter your address.
 Enter your city, state, and ZIP code.

Forms 940 and 940-EZ Filing

You can file Form 940-EZ instead of Form 940 if you:

- paid unemployment taxes (“contributions”) to only one state,
- paid all state unemployment taxes by January 31, 2003 (February 11, if you deposited all FUTA tax when due) and
- all wages that were taxable for FUTA tax purposes were also taxable for your state’s unemployment tax.

For example, if you paid wages to corporate officers (these wages are subject to FUTA tax) in a state that exempts these wages from its unemployment taxes, you cannot use Form 940-EZ.

Form 940-EZ

Lines A and B

You must complete lines A and B and Part I. If your FUTA tax (line 6) is over $100, you must also complete Part II.

Line A.

Enter the amount of your state unemployment contributions. If you are lucky enough to have been given a state experience rate of 0% enter “0% rate” in the space.

Line B (1).

Enter the state where you pay unemployment contributions.

Line B (2).

Enter your state reporting number.

Part I. Taxable Wages And FUTA Tax

Line 1.

Enter the total payments made during the year for services of employees.

Line 2.

Enter payments that are exempt for FUTA purposes, see Publication 15 (under Special Rules for Various Types of Services and Payments). Do not enter payments over $7,000 for each employee.

Line 3.

Enter the amount of taxable payments that were over the $7,000 you paid each employee.

Line 6.

Compute the FUTA tax by multiplying the wages on Line 5 by .008.

Line 7.

FUTA tax deposited.

Line 8.

Balance due.

Line 9.

Overpayment.

Part II. Record of Quarterly FUTA Tax Liability

Complete this part only if your FUTA tax on line 6 is over $100. Your quarterly FUTA tax liability is figured by multiplying the wages subject to FUTA tax within the $7,000 limit by .008. The total must match line 6 in part I.

Remember, this is your tax liability based on when you paid the wages and not on when the deposits were made.

Example of Completed Form 940-EZ

Sue Martin owner of Martin's Fabric Shop has two employees, whom she paid each Friday. She meets all the filing requirements for Form 940-EZ. She made contributions of $352.00 to the state of Virginia and her state unemployment number is VA94371. Form 940-EZ has been completed using the following information (See Exhibit 3.12 on page 3-33):

Summary

In this lesson you learned who must pay FUTA tax, what wages are subject to this tax, how to figure the amount of FUTA tax due and when the tax must be deposited. You also learned how to complete Form 940-EZ. Important points to remember include:

- when Form 940 or 940-EZ is due,
- what the deposit requirements are and
- that only employers pay FUTA tax.

Exercises

Exercise 1

Mr. Wilson opened a business in January 2002 and hired six-employees. In the first quarter he paid the employees each week for 13 weeks. Use the following information to determine:

- (A) How much of the total wages is subject to FUTA tax? $ ____
- (B) What is the first quarter FUTA tax liability? $ _____
- (C) When is the deposit due date? _____

Mr. Wilson's Business
Employee	Wages Paid in Quarter
R. Riding	$ 4,500
M. Lamb	8,100
J. Nimble	3,400
C. Moon	5,600
C. Fiddle	4,900
P. Son	5,200
Total Wages	$31,700

Assume that the same facts are true for the second quarter (that is, there are 13 paydays; each employee's wages remain the same and no new employees are hired). Use the information in the previous table to determine:

- (D) How much of the total wages is subject to FUTA tax?
$ _____
- (E) What is the second quarter FUTA tax liability? $ _____
- (F) Is a deposit due? YES. NO
- (G) When an employer pays state contributions after the due date (or extended due date) of Form 940, the credit for the state contributions is ____% of the amount that would be allowed if the employer had paid the state contributions by the due date.

(Answers are found on page A-6.)

Lesson 4

Business Use of Your Home

Introduction

The purpose of this lesson is to provide information on figuring and claiming the deduction for business use of your home. The term home can include a house, apartment, condominium, mobile home or boat. It also includes structures on the property, such as an unattached garage, studio, barn or greenhouse.

Objectives

1. Determine if you are eligible for the business use of the home deduction.
2. Complete Form 8829, EXPENSES FOR THE BUSINESS USE OF YOUR HOME.

Qualifying for a Deduction

To deduct expenses related to the business use of part of your home, you must meet specific requirements. Even then, the deduction may be limited. To qualify to claim expenses for the business use of your home, you must meet the following tests:

- your use of the business part of your home must be:
 - exclusive (see Exceptions to exclusive use, later),
 - regular and
 - for your business, and
- the business part of your home must be one of the following:
 - your principal place of business,
 - a place where you meet with patients, clients or customers in the normal course of your business, or
 - a separate structure (not attached to your home) you use in connection with your business.

Exclusive Use

To qualify under the exclusive use test, you must use a specific area of your home only for your trade or business. The area used for business can be a room or other separately identifiable space. The space does not need to be marked off by a permanent partition.

You do not meet the requirements of the exclusive use test if you use the area in question both for business and for personal purposes.

Example: You are an attorney and use a den in your home to write legal briefs and prepare client tax returns. Your family also uses the den for recreation. Since the den is not used exclusively in your profession, you cannot claim a business deduction for its use.

Exceptions to Exclusive Use

You do not have to meet the exclusive use test if:

- you use part of your home for the storage of inventory or product samples, or
- you use part of your home as a day-care facility.

Regular Use

To qualify under the regular use test, you must use a specific area of your home for business on a continuing basis. You do not meet the test if your business use of the area is only occasional or incidental, even if you do not use that area for any other purpose.

Principal Place of Business

You can have more than one business location, including your home, for a single trade or business. One way to qualify to deduct the expenses for the business use of your home is if your home is your principal place of business. To determine this, you must consider all of the facts and circumstances.

Your home office will qualify as your principal place of business for deducting expenses for its use if:

- you use it exclusively and regularly for administrative or management activities of your trade or business and
- you have no other fixed location where you conduct substantial administrative or management activities of your trade or business.

The following activities that are administrative or managerial in nature:

- billing customers,
- keeping books and records,
- ordering supplies,
- setting up appointments and
- forwarding orders or writing reports.

The following activities will not disqualify your home office as your principal place of business:

- employing others to conduct your administrative or management activities at locations other than your home,
- conducting administrative or management activities at places that are not fixed locations of your business, such as in a car or a hotel room,
- occasionally conducting minimal administrative or management activities at a fixed location outside your home,
- conducting substantial nonadministrative or nonmanagement business activities at a fixed location outside your home and
- having suitable space to conduct administrative or management activities outside your home, but choosing to use your home office for those activities instead.

Example A: Jon is a self-employed plumber. Most of Jon's time is spent at customers' homes and offices installing and repairing plumbing. He has a small office in his home that he uses exclusively and regularly for the administrative or management details of his business, such as phoning customers, ordering supplies and keeping his books. Jon does not do his own billing. He uses a local bookkeeping service to bill his customers.

Jon's home office qualifies as his principal place of business for deducting expenses for its use. He uses the home office for the administrative or managerial activities of his plumbing business and he has no other fixed location where he conducts these administrative or managerial activities. His choice to have his billing done by another company does not disqualify his home office as his principal place of business. Because he meets all the qualifications, including principal place of business, he can deduct expenses (to the extent of the deduction limit) for the business use of his home.

Example B: Clyde is a self-employed anesthesiologist. He spends the majority of his time administering anesthesia and postoperative care in three local hospitals. One of the hospitals provides him with a small-shared office where he could conduct administrative or management activities. Clyde does not use the office the hospital provides. He uses a room in his home, that he has converted, as an office. He uses this room exclusively and regularly to conduct all the following activities:

- contacting patients, surgeons and hospitals regarding scheduling,
- preparing for treatments and presentations,
- maintaining billing records and patient logs,
- satisfying continuing medical education requirements and
- reading medical journals and books.

Clyde's home office qualifies as his principal place of business for deducting expenses for its use. He conducts administrative or management activities there for his business as an anesthesiologist. He has no other fixed location where he conducts administrative or management activities for this business. His choice to use his home office instead of one provided by the hospital does not disqualify his home office as his principal place of business. His performance of substantial nonadministrative or nonmanagement activities at fixed locations outside his home also does not disqualify his home office as his principal place of business. Because he meets all the qualifications, including principal place of business, he can deduct expenses (to the extent of the deduction limit) for the business use of his home.

Meeting Place for Customers

If you do not meet the principal place of business test, your home office may qualify if you meet or deal with patients, clients or customers in your home in the normal course of your business, even though you also carry on business at another location. You can deduct your expenses for the part of your home used exclusively and regularly for business if:

- you physically meet with patients, clients or customers at your home and
- the use of your home is substantial and integral to the conduct of your business.

Using your home for occasional meetings and telephone calls will not qualify you to deduct expenses for the business use of your home.

Separate Structure

You can deduct expenses for a separate freestanding structure, such as a studio, garage, storage shed or barn, if you use it exclusively and regularly for your business. The structure does not have to be your principal place of business or a place where you meet patients, clients or customers.

Business Percentage

Most expenses related to the business use of your home are limited to the percentage of your home used for business (business percentage).

To find the business percentage, compare the size of the part of your home that you use for business to your whole house. You can use any reasonable method to determine the business percentage. The following are two commonly used methods for figuring the percentage.

Area Method

Divide the area used for business by the total area of your home.

Example: Your office is 240 square feet. Your home is 1200 square feet. Your office is 20% (240/1200) of the total area of your home. Your business percentage is 20%.

Number-of-Rooms Method

Divide the number of rooms used for business by the total number of rooms in your home. You can use this method if the rooms in your home are all about the same size.

Example: Peggy has an art studio in her home. She is allowed to take a deduction for the business use of her home. The rooms in her house are all about the same size. There are ten rooms and she uses one for a studio. Her business-use percentage is 10%.

Note: Use lines 1-7 of Form 8829, EXPENSES FOR BUSINESS USE OF YOUR HOME, to figure your business percentage.

Types of Expenses

There are two types of expenses related to using your home for business.

1. Expenses related to the business activity in the home but not to the use of the home itself.
2. Expenses for the business use of the home.

Expenses for the business use of the home are divided into three categories.

1. Direct expenses
2. Indirect expenses
3. Unrelated expenses

Expenses Not Related to Business Use of the Home

Business expenses related to the business activity in the home but not to the use of the home itself are deductible in full on Schedule C (Form 1040) or Schedule F (Form 1040). These expenses are not limited to the business use of the home percentage or the deduction limit (discussed later). Examples of some of these expenses include the following:

- advertising,
- business taxes,
- car and truck expenses,
- salaries,
- supplies and
- travel.

Expenses for Business Use of Your Home

You must divide the expenses of operating your home between personal and business use. The part of a home operating expense that you can use to figure your deduction depends on:

- whether the expense is direct, indirect or unrelated and
- the percentage of your home that is used for business.

Direct Expenses

Expenses only for the business part of your home are generally deductible in full unless subject to the deduction limit, discussed later.

Example: Painting or repairs only in the area used for business.

Indirect Expenses

Expenses for running your entire home are deductible based on the percentage of your home used for business. They may also be subject to the deduction limit, discussed later.

Examples: Insurance, utilities and general repairs.

Unrelated Expenses

Expenses for the parts of your home not used for business are not deductible; (i.e. lawn care, painting a room not used for business).

Example: Jeff is allowed to take a deduction for the business use of his home. He has the following expenses:

Landscaping	$1,500
Painting the business office	$700
Utilities for the entire house	$1,060
Repairs to the roof of the house	$500
Repairs to the business office	$100
Painting the bedroom	$400

Painting the bedroom and landscaping are unrelated expenses. They cannot be deducted. The painting and repairs to the office are direct expenses and can be deducted in full. The repairs to the roof and utilities are indirect expenses. They are divided between business and personal parts of the house. The business part is deductible.

Examples of Expenses

Certain expenses are deductible whether or not you use your home for business. However, if you qualify to claim business use of the home expenses, you can use the business part of these expenses to figure your business use of the home deduction.

These expenses are:

- real estate taxes,
- deductible mortgage interest and
- casualty losses.

Other expenses are deductible only if you use your home for business. These expenses generally include (but are not limited to):

- insurance,
- rent,
- repairs,
- utilities and services and
- depreciation on your home.

Real Estate Taxes: To figure the business part of your real estate taxes, multiply the real estate taxes paid by the percentage of your home used for business.

Deductible Mortgage Interest: To figure the business part of your deductible mortgage interest, multiply this interest by the percentage of your home used for business.

Casualty Losses: If you have a casualty loss on your home that you use for business, treat the casualty loss as a direct expense, an indirect expense or an unrelated expense, depending on the property affected. If the loss is on a part of the property used for both business and personal purposes, use only the business portion to figure the deduction.

Insurance: You can deduct the cost of insurance that covers the business part of your home. However, if your insurance premium gives you coverage for a period that extends past the end of your tax year, you can deduct only the business percentage of the part of the premium that gives you coverage for your tax year.

Rent: If you rent, rather than own, a home and meet the requirements for business use of the home, you can deduct part of the rent you pay. To figure your deduction multiply your rent payments by the percentage of your home used for business.

Repairs: The cost of repairs and supplies that relate to your business, including labor (other than your own labor), is a deductible expense. For example, a furnace repair benefits the entire home. If you use 10% of your home for business, you can deduct 10% of the cost of the furnace repair.

Utilities and services: You may deduct the business portion of your utilities and services, such as gas, electricity, trash removal and cleaning services. Generally, the amount deductible is the business-use percentage multiplied by the utility expense. The basic local telephone service charge, including taxes, for the first telephone line into your home is not deductible. However, charges for business long-distance phone calls on that line, as well as, the cost of a second line into your home used exclusively for business, are deductible business expenses. Deduct these charges on either Schedule C (Form 1040) or Schedule F (Form 1040). They are not part of your home office deduction.

Depreciation: Some expenses cannot be deducted all at once. The cost of any business property that lasts for more than one year must generally be deducted over a number of years. The annual expense is called depreciation. Depreciation reflects the reduction in value of the property.

To calculate depreciation on the business part of your home, you need to determine the depreciable basis of your home. Generally the depreciable basis of your home will be the lesser of:

1. the fair market value of your home (excluding land) on the date you first use it for business or
2. the purchase price (excluding land) plus any major improvements you made and minus any casualty losses or other changes to basis.

To determine how much of the depreciable basis you can use to compute your depreciation deduction, multiply the depreciable basis by the business-use percentage.

Example: Barry owns an accounting service. He uses 10% of his home as a business office. When Barry started his business, his home was worth $60,000. The home cost $50,000 and the land $10,000. The depreciable basis of the home is $50,000. The depreciable basis of the business part of the home is $5,000 ($50,000 depreciable basis multiplied by 10% business-use percentage).

For information on how to calculate depreciation, see INSTRUCTIONS TO FORM 8829 or IRS Publication 946, HOW TO DEPRECIATE PROPERTY.

Example: The following example shows how to compute the business percentage of the various expenses using Form 8829, EXPENSES FOR BUSINESS USE OF YOUR HOME.

Renee operates a private detective agency in her home. She is allowed to take a deduction for expenses related to the business use of the home. Renee's business-use percentage is 20 percent. She has the following expenses:

Real estate taxes	$1000
Dues	$50
Repairs to the floor of the office	$200
Utilities	$800
Transportation expenses	$150
Insurance premiums on entire house	$600
Mortgage Interest	$700
Depreciation on entire house	$700
Advertising	$100
Painting the office	$400
Business cards	$50
Roof repair	$100

Exhibit 4.1 on page 4-11 shows lines 9-30, Form 8829, EXPENSES FOR BUSINESS USE OF YOUR HOME, for Renee. Dues, transportation, advertising and business cards are expenses related to the business activity in the home but not to the business use of the home itself.

Form 8829 (2002)

Deduction Limit

If your gross income from the business operated or managed from your home equals or exceeds your total business expenses, you can deduct all your business expenses. If your gross income from that use is less than your total business expenses, your deduction for certain expenses for the business use of your home is limited.

Gross income is generally the total sales of your business less cost of goods sold.

Your deduction of otherwise nondeductible expenses, such as insurance, utilities and depreciation (with depreciation taken last), is limited to the gross income from the business use of your home minus the sum of the following:

- The business part of expenses you could deduct even if you did not use your home for business (such as mortgage interest, real estate taxes and casualty and theft losses).
- The business expenses that relate to the business activity in the home (for example, salaries or supplies), but not to the use of the home itself.

Example: Your deduction limit is $500. Your otherwise nondeductible expenses related to the business use of the home are $800. The deduction for these expenses is limited to $500.

Carryforward

Expenses that cannot be deducted because of the deduction limit can be carried forward to later years, subject to the deduction limit in those years.

Example: Computing the deduction and carryforward.

Renee has gross income of $1,500.00 from her private detective agency. She has $350 in business expenses that do not relate to the business use of the home. Her tentative profit is $1,150 ($1,500-$350). Using figures from Exhibit 4.1, the business portion of her expenses are:

Mortgage interest ($700 x 20%) $140
 Real estate taxes ($1,000 x 20%) 200
 Direct expenses 600
 Other indirect expenses 300
 Depreciation 140

Renee can take a deduction of $1,150 for expenses related to the business use of the home. The remaining $230 (including all of the depreciation of $140) is not deductible but can be carried forward. (See Exhibit 4.2 on page 4-13.)

Form 8829 (2002)

Where to Deduct Expenses Related to the Business Use of the Home

Self-employed individuals show their business income and expenses on Schedule C (Form 1040), PROFIT OR LOSS FROM BUSINESS, or on Schedule F (Form 1040), PROFIT OR LOSS FROM FARMING. If you file Schedule C, expenses related to the business use of the home are figured on Form 8829, EXPENSES FOR BUSINESS USE OF YOUR HOME and you report the deductible amount on line 30 of Schedule C. If you file Schedule F, figure your deduction using the worksheet at the end of Publication 587, BUSINESS USE OF YOUR HOME, and report the deductible amount on line 34 of Schedule F. Write “Business Use of Home” on the dotted line beside the entry.

Caution: Do not take a double deduction for real estate taxes and mortgage interest. If you report an amount for the business portion of the taxes and interest on Schedule C (or Schedule F), make sure you report only the personal portion on Schedule A, ITEMIZED DEDUCTIONS. The amounts reported on Schedule C (or F) and Schedule A should be the total interest and taxes you paid for the year.

Note: Employees must itemize deductions on Schedule A (Form 1040) in order to claim the deduction for business use of their home. See Publication 587 for more information.

Sale or Exchange of Your Home

If you sell or exchange your home, you may be able to exclude up to $250,000 (500,000 for certain married persons filing a joint return) of the capital gain on the sale. However, you cannot exclude any part of your gain that is equal to any depreciation allowed or allowable for the business use of your home after May 6, 1997. For more information on the sale or exchange of a home, see Publication 523, SELLING YOUR HOME.

Depreciation

If you used any part of your home for business, you must adjust the basis of your home for any depreciation that was allowable for its business use, even if you did not claim it.

Recordkeeping

You must keep records that provide the information needed to figure your deductions for the business use of your home. You should keep all canceled checks, receipts, invoices and other evidence of expenses you paid.

Your records must show the following information:

- The part of your home you use for business.
- That you use the part of the home exclusively and regularly for business and it is one of the following:
 - your principal place of business or
 - a place where you meet patients, clients or customers in the ordinary course of your business or
 - a separate structure.
- The depreciation and expenses for the business part of your home.

Exercise

In 2001, Frank started a tax preparation business in his home. He meets the qualifications to deduct business use of his home. His house is 2,800 square feet and his office space is 280 square feet. He has the following expenses:

Mortgage interest	$10,000
Advertising	$200
Real estate taxes	$2,500
Home owners insurance	$500
Office supplies	$600
Utilities	$2,200
Paint (for office only)	$200
General repairs (for home)	$2,000

The fair market value of the house, which is less than the cost, is $250,000, and the value of the land is $40,000. The depreciation percentage is 2.461. His tentative profit on Schedule C is $30,000.

Compute the business use of home deduction for Frank using Form 8829, EXPENSES FOR BUSINESS USE OF YOUR HOME. (See Exhibit 4.3 on page 4-16.)

Lesson 5

Electronic Filing and Paying Of Business Taxes

Introduction

If you were one of the more than 46 million taxpayers who filed their personal income tax return using IRS e-file in 2002 then you're already aware of the countless benefits electronic filing provides. Now business taxpayers and tax preparers can file by phone, by Internet or by PC software. It's more E-conomical with less paperwork. It's more E-efficient with increased accuracy. And it's more E-effective since you'll spend less time filing tax returns and more time focused on your business. If you're a business taxpayer, ask your tax preparer about e-filing. If you're a tax professional, ask your software developer about enabling your programs to take advantage of electronic filing.

This section of the workshop provides an overview of the programs available and a preview of those being developed. You can also obtain additional information online including a listing of Approved IRS e-file for Business Providers and Partners – just log on to www.irs.gov and click on the e-file logo.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, you will be able to:

1. Name the IRS e-file for Business programs.
2. Name the benefits of IRS e-file for Business programs.
3. Name the Electronic Payment Options.
4. Determine which programs you can use in your business

940 and 941e-file

The IRS electronic employment tax filing program offers business taxpayers a variety of paperless options for filing Form 940 and Form 941. Using this program, business taxpayers, reporting agents, software developers and transmitters can file Form 940, Employer's Annual Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return, and Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return, electronically. The program conducts security checks, sends electronic acknowledgments and builds records to be processed by IRS computer systems. Returns are transmitted nationwide via dial-up phone lines and menu driven software directly to the IRS where they are processed at the Tennessee Computing Center (TCC)/Memphis Submission Processing Center (MSPC).

The 941e-file Program accepts all current quarter tax returns, and returns for four preceding quarters, with the following exceptions:

- Amended Returns
 - Returns with attachments other than Schedule B, (record of federal tax liability).

941e-file and 940e-file returns are signed with a Personal Identification Number (PIN), which is assigned to the Reporting Agent when an application is approved.

A Form 941 filed through the 941e-file Program has the same due date as a Form 941 filed on paper with due dates as follows:

Quarter Ending	Normal Due Date	Extended Due Date
March 31 st	April 30 th	May 10 th
June 30 th	July 31 st	August 10 th
September 30 th	October 31 st	November 10 th
December 31 st	January 31 st	February 10 th

Form 940*e-file* returns are annual returns with a calendar year ending and have the same due date as a Form 940 filed on paper – January 31, 2002. If all taxes have been paid in full, the return due date is extended by ten days (February 10, 2002).

Note: The extended due dates shown above apply to returns for which all taxes have been paid in full by the normal due date.

Who Can Participate in the 940 and 941e-file Programs?

Business taxpayers using payroll service providers (Reporting Agents) can electronically file Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return and Form 940, Employer's Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return if their service provider offers these services. The payroll service provider electronically transmits your Form 940 and/or 941 return directly to the IRS and beginning in January, 2003, these returns will be processed at the Cincinnati Submission Processing Center (CSPC).

Note: In response to customer feedback, the IRS is redesigning the electronic tax filing system for “Employment Taxes”, using a new XML (Extensible Markup Language) file format with expected release in 2003. The new system, referred to as the “Employment Tax e-file System” will address user needs by providing a more flexible system and enhanced features, including participation by Electronic Return Originators (EROs). An ERO is a tax professional who has been approved by the IRS to file returns electronically.

If you're a business taxpayer, you'll want to ask your tax preparer about the new Employment Tax e-file System. If you're a tax professional, ask your software developer/provider about enabling your tax software program to take advantage of e-file for Business.

What are the Benefits of 940 and 941e-file?

It's Convenient

- It's Paperless! Your PIN serves as your signature.
- Electronic Acknowledgment within 48 hours
- Tax preparation work is automated with return preparation software that performs calculations, and highlights needed forms and schedules

Fast

- Information is quickly available to IRS Customer Service sites
- Processing time is reduced to one week or less

Accurate

- Fewer risks of transcription errors
- Error rates are less than one percent!

Safe

- Tax Information is Secure
- Only authorized users have access to the system

940/941 On-Line Filing

The IRS On-Line Filing Program for Form 941 and Form 940 is available to business filers. The On-Line program, which is a Web-based Internet system, allows business filers to prepare, sign and file Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return and Form 940, Employer's Annual Federal Unemployment (FUTA) Tax Return, using an Approved IRS e-file for Business Provider also known as a third-party transmitter. Business taxpayers enter their information online by logging on to the approved provider's Web site. The approved provider then transmits the return to the IRS.

Who can participate in the 940 and 941 On-Line Filing Program?

- Business Filers
- Approved IRS e-file for Business Providers also known as third-party transmitters, or software developers

What are the Benefits?

It's Convenient

- It's Paperless! Your PIN serves as your signature
- Electronic Acknowledgment within 48 hours
- Tax preparation work is automated with return preparation software that performs the calculations, and highlights needed forms and schedules

Fast

- Information is quickly available to IRS Customer Service sites
- Processing time is reduced to one week or less

Accurate

- Fewer risks of transcription errors
- Error rates are less than one percent!

Safe

- Tax Information is Secure
- Only authorized users have access to the system

How to Participate

Business Filers: Apply for a Personal Identification Number (PIN) by completing the electronic Letter of Application (LOA) online via the Web, to register through the "Approved IRS e-file for Business Provider" (third-party transmitter) of their choice. The third-party transmitter will electronically transmit the LOA to the Austin Submission Processing Center (AUSPC). Upon IRS approval of the business filers' electronic LOA, the IRS mails a Personal Identification Number (PIN) to the business filer within 3 to 5 business days. The business filer uses the PIN to sign their electronic return online. The same PIN is used to sign Forms 940 and 941.

How can I get more information?

Transmitters/Software Developers Only: Submit a paper Form 9041, Application/Registration for Filing Business Returns or a paper Letter of Application (LOA) to the Austin Electronic Filing Help Desk to participate in the 941 and/or 940 On-Line Filing Program. Upon IRS approval of the participant's application, the IRS will issue a User-ID/Password/Access Code to access the Electronic Filing System, as applicable.

941TeleFile

941TeleFile is an electronic IRS e-file option for eligible businesses that choose to electronically file Form 941, Employer's Quarterly Federal Tax Return, using a Touch-Tone telephone. It is an interactive computer program that calculates the qualified caller's tax liability or any overpayment and begins the electronic filing process over the phone. This program is paperless (no forms are required to be mailed) and it's FREE.

941TeleFile users can elect to electronically file and simultaneously pay any balance due on the return by using Electronic Funds Withdrawal, formerly known as Direct Debit (automatic withdrawal).

Who can participate in 941TeleFile?

Businesses that receive the special 941TeleFile Tax Record and Instructions as part of their Form 941 Tax Package must meet the qualifications in the instructions.

Your Can use 941 TeleFile if you:

- Receive the special TeleFile Tax Record as part of your 941 package;
- Are a monthly schedule depositor for the entire quarter;
- Have not changed your business name, address or Employer Identification Number (EIN) during the previous quarter;
- Must have a break-even, overpayment (to be applied to the next quarter), or balance due return (using electronic funds withdrawal);
- Are not a seasonal employer;
- Have no schedules or attachments (if you are required to file a Schedule B you are not eligible to use 941TeleFile);
- Only have fractions of cents adjustments; and
- Choose to claim Advance Earned Income Credit (AEIC) payments. (Optional)

NEW !

Beginning April 1, 2002, there's an even faster and easier way to file Form 941. Certain business taxpayers are eligible to file the new 941TeleFile "Zero Wage Return". You must have no employees, no withholding, no deposits and no taxes to report to be eligible.

What are the Benefits of 941TeleFile?

- It's Convenient - 941TeleFile is easy to use and provides step-by-step instructions over the phone. The 941TeleFile Tax Record is an official record of your tax return. You also receive proof of filing - when you have finished the call and the IRS has accepted your return, the 941TeleFile system provides you with a confirmation number. You can even choose to electronically pay any balance due by authorizing an Electronic Funds Withdrawal from your bank account.
- It's Fast – Information is quickly available to IRS Customer Service sites and processing time is greatly reduced.
- It's Accurate – It does the math - 941TeleFile computes your tax liability and any overpayment or balance due during the call. All entries are repeated to double-check accuracy.
- It's Safe – Tax information is secure. Only authorized users have access to the system.

How to Participate

Businesses that receive the special tax package must complete the 941TeleFile Tax Record before using a touch-tone telephone to place their call using the special toll-free number listed in the 941TeleFile tax package. The interactive program prompts users to make the necessary entries from the TeleFile Tax Record, using the telephone keypad. The system repeats each entry to verify accuracy and to allow users to immediately correct any mistakes.

Next, the system provides the overpayment or balance due amount to be entered on the TeleFile Tax Record that should be retained by the filer. The system then plays a jurat statement and asks the caller to enter his or her identification information, which constitutes the electronic signature. (Refer to 941TeleFile Instructions) The electronic signature should be for the authorized signer (member, officer or agent of the taxpayer), followed by the pound (#) sign. This alternative signature method makes the 941TeleFile option completely paperless.

Last, a ten-digit confirmation number is issued to the caller as proof of filing. If the caller did not hear the confirmation number or misplaces it, he/she may call the toll-free number again. The system will ask for the caller's Employer Identification Number (EIN). Once the EIN is entered, the ten-digit proof of filing confirmation number is repeated.

If the system will not accept the information being entered, determine if the correct telephone keypad buttons are being used to make entries. For instance, do not use the letter "O" for a number zero (0) or the letter "L" for number one (1).

If an error is made but not realized until after hanging up, the caller must file a corrected paper return.

Payment Options for 941Tele-File

- It's free and convenient - You can electronically file and pay all at once.
- It's safe and secure - Electronic Funds Withdrawal information will be used only for the tax payment you authorize. No other withdrawals can legally be made.
- Bank account information is safeguarded with other tax information.
- Payment information will not be disclosed for any reason other than processing the transaction as authorized.
- The tax payment is included on the monthly bank statement, as a United States Treasury Tax Payment, as proof of payment.
- You will be prompted by the 941TeleFile script to enter bank account information.
- You must know the account number and financial institution's Routing Transit Number (RTN).
- You must identify the type of account from which the payment is to be made (checking or savings).
- Account numbers and Routing Transit Numbers can be found on checks and share drafts.

- Check with your financial institution if you have questions regarding these numbers and to confirm that the financial institution will allow an Electronic Funds Withdrawal from the account.

If you choose to pay using Electronic Funds Withdrawal

- You may authorize the U.S. Department of the Treasury (through a Treasury Financial Agent) to transfer money from your bank account to the Treasury account.
 - The payment date will be the same as the date the balance due return is filed.
 - Electronic Funds Withdrawal payments will be withdrawn in a single transaction, not installments.
 - You can call the Treasury Financial Agent, toll-free at 1-888-353-4537 to inquire about payments. Wait at least 5 days after the return is filed before making inquiries.
 - You will be notified if a payment is returned by the financial institution due to insufficient funds, incorrect account information, closed accounts, etc. If this occurs, the IRS will send a notification letter to the address on the tax return explaining why the payment could not be processed. The letter will include instructions for sending a check to a unique address that has been established for this initiative.
 - In the event the financial institution is unable to process the direct debit transaction, you will be responsible for the tax payment in addition to penalties and interest.
 - Contact the IRS immediately at 1-800-829-1040 if there is an error in the amount withdrawn.
 - In the event Treasury causes an incorrect amount of funds to be withdrawn from the bank account, Treasury is responsible for returning any improperly transferred funds.

1065 e-file for Partnerships

Partnerships that engage in a trade or business or have gross income from sources within the United States may be able to electronically file Form 1065, U.S. Partnership Return of Income.

Legislative Mandate

Effective December 31, 2000, partnerships with more than 100 partners are now required to file their Form 1065, Schedules K-1 and related forms and schedules electronically. Failure to comply with the provisions of the mandate could result in an assessment of a penalty.

The electronic filing mandate applies only to those partnerships with more than one hundred partners, however businesses may choose to voluntarily electronically file their Forms 1065 regardless of the number of partners in the partnership.

Certain partnership filers are excluded from the mandate as shown below.

- Form 1065-B Returns
- Form 1065 with a foreign address
- Amended Returns
- Returns filed under Sections 6020(b), 501(d)(3) or 761(a) of the Internal Revenue Code
- Fiscal Year Partnership Returns
- Fiscal Year Short Period Returns
- Fiscal Year Final Returns

Benefits of 1065 e-file

- Less paper handling
- Reduced costs
- Improved accuracy and product quality (fewer errors mean less correspondence with the IRS)
- Electronic acknowledgment of return

A complete listing of Approved IRS e-file for Business Providers who offer 1065 e-file can be found at www.irs.gov - click on the e-file logo. Links to these companies' Web sites are included.

TIP: You may be able to enter your return information online via the Internet using software provided by the 1065 e-file provider of your choice. The provider will then transmit your Form 1065 and K-1s to the IRS.

Note: If you've chosen to use the services of an Approved IRS e-file for Business Provider to electronically file your Form 1065, you do not need to submit an application.

All others must submit Form 9041, Application/Registration for Electronic/Magnetic Media Filing of Business Returns, to the IRS Austin Submission Processing Center (AUSPC) in Austin, Texas for processing. The IRS accepts applications by mail or fax.

1120/1120S e-file Program

Beginning January 2004, corporations will be able to electronically file Form 1120, U.S. Corporation Income Tax Return and Form 1120S, U.S. Income Tax Return for an S Corporation as well as 53 associated forms and schedules. A Fed/State electronic filing option is planned for 2005.

With EFTPS, you can make your federal tax payments electronically instead of using paper deposit coupons. There are no more last minute trips to the bank, lost checks, inaccurate forms or postage costs. EFTPS is a free payment system sponsored by the U.S. Department of the Treasury.

The EFTPS System

- Currently serves more than 4 million business taxpayers
- Enrolls 6,500 new businesses each week
- Is available to all business taxpayers

Note: Only businesses that make in excess of $200,000 in total yearly deposits are required to enroll in EFTPS, however it is available for use by all taxpayers.

EFTPS offers you the convenience of making your federal tax payment directly by EFTPS-Phone (voice response system), EFTPS-PC Software (personal computer), EFTPS-OnLine (Internet) or EFTPS-through a Financial Institution. You can initiate your tax payment 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. EFTPS even allows businesses to schedule their tax payment instructions up to 120 days in advance of the date you designate. No special equipment is required to use EFTPS; and, if you use a PC, free Windows®-based software is available. Whether you use a phone, PC, Internet or a service offered by a financial institution, you are in charge of initiating your tax payments through EFTPS. No one has unauthorized access to your account. You will also receive an Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) Acknowledgment Number to keep as a record of your payment.

Pay Your Taxes Electronically

You can use EFTPS to pay these taxes:

FORM 720 QUARTERLY FEDERAL EXCISE RETURN
 FORM 940 EMPLOYER'S ANNUAL FEDERAL UNEMPLOYMENT TAX (FUTA) RETURN
 FORM 941 EMPLOYER'S QUARTERLY FEDERAL TAX RETURN
 FORM 943 EMPLOYER'S ANNUAL TAX RETURN FOR AGRICULTURE WORKERS FORM 945 ANNUAL RETURN OF WITHHELD FEDERAL INCOME TAX
 FORM 990-C FARMER'S COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION INCOME TAX RETURN
 FORM 990-PF RETURN OF PRIVATE FOUNDATION
 FORM 990-T EXEMPT ORGANIZATION BUSINESS INCOME TAX RETURN
 SECTION 4947 (A)(1) CHARITABLE TRUST TREATED AS A PRIVATE FOUNDATION
 FORM 1041 FIDUCIARY INCOME TAX RETURN
 FORM 1042 ANNUAL WITHHOLDING TAX RETURN FOR U.S. SOURCES OF INCOME OF FOREIGN PERSONS
 FORM 1120 U.S. CORPORATION INCOME TAX RETURN
 FORM CT-1 EMPLOYER'S ANNUAL RAILROAD RETIREMENT TAX RETURN

In addition, you can use EFTPS to make all your federal tax payments, including income, employment, estimated, excise and installment agreement payments.

Payment Options

On Form 9779, EFTPS BUSINESS ENROLLMENT FORM, you will be asked to select from the following primary payment methods are:

- EFTPS–Direct
- EFTPS–Through a Financial Institution

You also have the option to use a Same Day Payment method, although many financial institutions charge significant fees for using this method.

EFTPS–Direct (Automated Clearinghouse (ACH) Debit)

If you select this method of payment, you will receive a Personal Identification Number (PIN). Your PIN must be used in combination with your Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) to gain access to EFTPS. EFTPS will move the funds from your account to the Treasury's account on the date you designate. Funds will not move from your account until the date you indicate.

Step 1. At least one calendar day before your tax due date, and before 8:00 p.m. ET, you access EFTPS by phone or PC. EFTPS will then prompt you for the necessary information to complete your tax payment report.

Step 2. The system processes the information reported.

When the information is accepted, you will receive an EFT Acknowledgment Number. Keep this number for your records in case of questions at a later date.

Step 3. Once your tax payment report is accepted, EFTPS will originate an ACH Debit transaction against your designated account on the date you indicated when making your payment.

Step 4. The funds will be transferred to the Treasury’s account and the tax data will be reported to IRS to update your tax records.

EFTPS–Through a Financial Institution (ACH Credit)

In this method, you will instruct your financial institution to electronically move funds from your account to the Treasury’s Account. However, not all financial institutions offer this service. Therefore, before selecting this option, you should first check with your bank to see if they offer this service, how much it costs, and if you are eligible to use it.

Step 1. At least one day before the tax due date, you initiate your payment through your financial institution. The tax payment report must be made prior to your financial institution’s ACH processing deadline.

Step 2. Your financial institution will originate an ACH Credit transaction to EFTPS, transferring the funds to the Treasury’s Account and the tax data to IRS to update your tax records.

Same Day Payment

While EFTPS-Direct and EFTPS-Through a Financial Institution are the primary payment methods for EFTPS, you can also use the Same Day Payment method. Check with your financial institution for fees involved. Typically, the cost of Same Day Payments is higher than the other payment methods.

Payroll Company

If you choose to allow your payroll company to make tax payments on your behalf, you should check with them for specific fees, deadlines and instructions pertaining to enrollment in EFTPS.

If your payroll company is not making all of your tax payments through EFTPS, you will need to enroll in EFTPS to initiate those payments not processed by them. It is also a good idea to enroll in EFTPS separately so that you have flexibility if you ever need to change payroll companies.

Scheduling Feature

As a bonus, if you are out of town when your tax payment is due, or you want to plan ahead, EFTPS offers a Payment Scheduling feature. Businesses may schedule payment instructions up to 120 days in advance of the tax due date; individuals may schedule payment instructions up to 365 days in advance of tax the due date and EFTPS will automatically make the payments on the due date indicated.

New Banking Feature

It is now easier for taxpayers to pay taxes electronically to change their banking information. Taxpayers can now make changes to their financial institution information over the phone. Using EFTPS-Phone, taxpayers call the 1-800 number for an automated way to add new financial institution account information. If the taxpayer elects not to have their financial information verified by their bank, they will receive a new Personal Identification Number (PIN) immediately over the phone and can continue using EFTPS. If users choose to have their information verified, an additional 7-10 days is required for processing, after which time taxpayers will receive a new PIN in the mail. EFTPS users can also use EFTPS-OnLine to make changes and receive a new PIN within 7-10 days by U.S. Mail.

Customer Service and Enrollment

Once you enroll in EFTPS, you will have dedicated Customer Service Representatives to answer any questions about your payments. Customer Service Centers are open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. For more information or to enroll call 1-800-555-4477 or 1-800-945-8400 or visit www.eftps.gov.

After Enrollment

Once you have completed and mailed your enrollment form, EFTPS processes your enrollment and sends you a confirmation package, including a step-by-step Payment Instruction Booklet (PIB). Your PIN will be sent under separate cover. Once you receive your PIN, you can begin making payments.

IMPORTANT! If your Enrollment Form is incomplete and cannot be processed, you will receive notification from EFTPS regarding any missing information.

8. Payment Method. Choose the payment method(s) by placing an "X" in the box(es). The options available are: EFTPS-Direct and EFTPS-Through A Financial Institution.

When choosing EFTPS-Direct you can use EFTPS-Phone, EFTPS-OnLine or EFTPS-PC Software. *If you choose EFTPS-PC Software, and after your EFTPS enrollment is successful, you may download the software from our web site (www.EFTPS.gov), or to receive the software via mail, call EFTPS Customer Service at the numbers listed on the front of this form.

8. Payment Method

EFTPS-Direct: check here if you will instruct EFTPS to transfer payment from your account. (These EFTPS Payment Input Methods for EFTPS-Direct are interchangeable: EFTPS-Phone, EFTPS-PC Software *, EFTPS-OnLine)

EFTPS-Through A Financial Institution: check here if you will instruct your financial institution to forward the payment to EFTPS. You must check with your financial institution to determine if they are capable of providing this service.

NOTE: If you will only be using EFTPS-Through A Financial Institution as a payment method, skip to item #23.

Note: For EFTPS-Direct, complete the additional information required about your financial institution. Enrollment in the EFTPS-Direct payment method will automatically enroll you for EFTPS-Through A Financial Institution as well as Same-Day Payment.

For EFTPS-Through A Financial Institution, you initiate a tax payment through a financial institution. You must contact your financial institution to insure the institution is capable of making an EFTPS payment through the Automated Clearing House (ACH) or a Same-Day Payment method. If you enroll for EFTPS-Through A Financial Institution or Same-Day Payment, you may also enroll for EFTPS-Direct by providing the financial institution information requested on items 19 through 23.

9-18. Optional Tax Form Payment Amount Limits (For EFTPS-Direct only)

This section is optional. You may set amount limits for each tax type to prevent an overpayment. The system will compare your payment amount against your stated limit and provide a warning if you exceed the limit. You may override the warning if you wish.

(19 through 24 must be completed if EFTPS-Direct will be used)

19. RTN. This is the nine-digit number associated with your financial institution. You may contact your financial institution to verify this number.

20. Account Number. Enter the number of the account you will use to pay your taxes.

21. Type. Please mark one box to indicate whether the account is a checking or savings account.

22. State and ZIP Code. Use the two-character letter abbreviation for the state your financial institution is located in and indicate ZIP Code.

23. Authorization. This section authorizes a Financial Agent of the U.S. Treasury to initiate tax payments from the account(s) you designate if you requested the EFTPS-Direct payment method.

24. Taxpayer Signature. The taxpayer must sign this section to authorize participation in EFTPS. If there is no signature, a form will be returned.

This section also provides authorization to share the information provided with your financial institution, required for the processing of the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System.

If signed by a corporate officer, partner, or fiduciary on behalf of the taxpayer, the signer certifies that they have the authority to execute this authorization on behalf of the taxpayer.

Remember to sign and mail your enrollment form to the address on reverse side.

Paperwork Reduction Act Notice: In accordance with the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995, we ask for the information in the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS) Enrollment Form in order to carry out the requirements of 28 United States Code 6001, 6011, and 6109. You are not required to provide information requested on a form that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by Code section 6103. This information is used by the Internal Revenue Service to assure that payment(s) are properly credited to the appropriate account(s). Your response is mandatory if you are required by regulations to use Electronic Funds Transfer to make your Federal Tax Deposits. The time needed to provide this information will vary depending on individual circumstances. The estimated average time is ten minutes. If you have comments concerning the accuracy of this time estimate or suggestions for reducing this burden, we would be happy to hear from you. You can write to the Internal Revenue Service, Tax Forms Committee, Western Area Distribution Center, Rancho Cordova, CA 95743-0001. Please do not send the enrollment form to this address.

The Privacy Act of 1974 requires that when we ask individuals for information about themselves, we state our legal right to ask for the information, why we are asking for the information, and how it will be used. We must also tell you what could happen if we do not receive all or part of it, and whether your response is voluntary, required to obtain a benefit, or mandatory. Our legal right to ask for information is 5 U.S.C. 301 and Internal Revenue Code sections 6001, 6011, 6012, and applicable regulations. The information will be used to enroll you in the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS). The information may not be disclosed except as provided by section 6103 of the Internal Revenue Code. We may give the information to the Department of Justice and to other Federal agencies, as provided by law. We may also give it to cities, states, the District of Columbia, and U.S. commonwealths or possessions to carry out their laws. We may give it to foreign governments because of tax treaties they have with the United States. Your response is mandatory if you are required by regulations to use electronic funds transfer to make your deposits. If you are not required by regulations to use electronic funds transfer, your response is voluntary. If you do not provide all or part of the information, you may not be eligible to participate in the EFTPS. If you are required to use electronic funds transfer by regulation, you may be subject to penalties. If you are not required to use electronic funds transfer to pay taxes owed, you need to pay the taxes due by another method.
